AFTER CONFUSION, NPCI SAYS 1.1% FEE ONLY FOR SOME TRANSACTIONS

The new interchange charges are applicable only for UPI merchant transactions above ₹2,000 using prepaid payment instruments (PPI)

NO CHARGES FOR NORMAL UPI TRANSACTIONS

There will be no fee for customers who use bank account-based UPI, the National Payments Corporation of India clarified after its recent circular on 1.1% fees on certain UPI transactions created confusion. NPCI recently permitted PPI wallets such as Paytm to be part of interoperable UPI ecosystem and allowed them to charge 1.1% fee from merchants | P13

WILL NOT AFFECT 99.9% UPI USERS

- According to the NPCI, the interchange fee will not affect 99.9% of UPI transactions, because they are linked to bank accounts. In other words, if you are sending money to friends or family, it won't attract 1.1% fee
- "These bank account-to-account transactions continue to remain free for customers and merchants," NPCI clarified on Wednesday

Faizal gets back LS membership

New Delhi: NCP leader from Lakshadweep, Mohammad Faizal P P, was back in the Lok Sabha on Wednesday, as his disqualification as Member of Parliament from the Lower House was revoked after over 10 weeks and hours ahead of the hearing in the Supreme Court on his petition in the matter. P5

Cong to appeal against Rahul's conviction

New Delhi: The Congress expressed solidarity with former Wayanad MP Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday, and accused the Centre of acting in haste to disqualify him from the Lok Sabha after his conviction in a 2019 defamation case. Sources said a petition challenging Gandhi's conviction is ready.

KARNATAKA TO VOTE ON MAY 10

Single-phase poll to 224-member Assembly; notification to be issued on April 13

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

KARNATAKA will go to polls in a single phase on May 10 for its 224-member Legislative Assembly with 5.24 crore people eligible to vote in 58,282 polling stations.

Counting of votes will be done on May 13. Announcing the poll schedule for Karnataka, Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar on Wednesday said the ECI is determined to ensure free and fair elections, giving no scope for use of money power and other unfair electoral means. It has deployed 2,400 static surveillance teams for the purpose. It has set up 17 inter-state check-posts in 19 districts which share borders with other states.

"The Commission is working towards mapping the expenditure-sensitive constituencies," Kumar said.

He said the election notification will be issued on April 13. The last date for filing nomination papers is April 20. The papers will be scrutinised on April 21. The last date for withdrawal of nomination papers is April 24.

KARNATAKA ELECTIONS 2023 DECIDE

On choosing Wednesday for polling, Kumar said it has been done to encourage greater participation of voters. With the announcement of the poll date, the Model Code of Conduct has come into force in the state, where the BJP, Congress and JDS have intensified their campaigns. But, citing the ECI's seriousness to ensure fair and peaceful polls, he said even before the enforcement of MCC, a strict vigil was maintained by enforcement agencies on the Commission's direction, leading to the seizure of cash and goods worth Rs 80 crore so far. No clear winner as yet; it could be anybody's game

RAMU PATIL @ Bengaluru

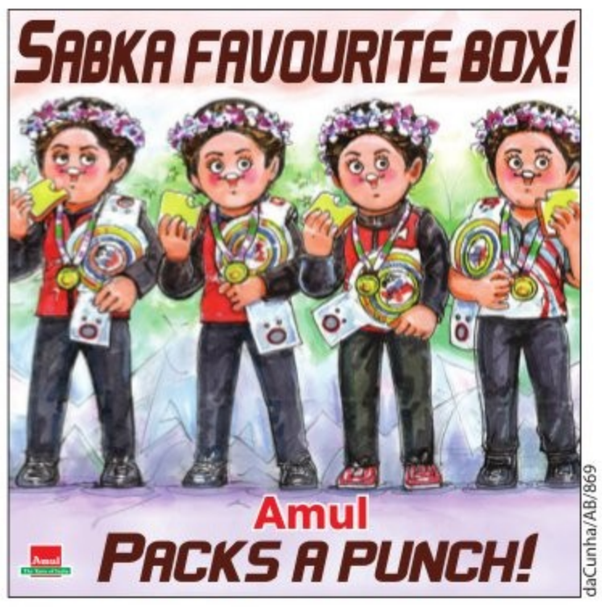
AS Karnataka goes to polls on May 10, campaigning is set to pick up pace. As things stand today, no party looks to be the clear winner, and the contest is likely to go down to the wire. However, the equations may change as we get closer to the polls.

For now, Karnataka seems to be staring at a fractured mandate and the state agencies' reading of the current situation also indicates the same. Prime Minister Narendra Modi during his recent speech in Davanagere too cautioned against a fractured verdict. There has to be some reason why the PM mentioned it.

On the ground, the Opposition Congress which is making all-out efforts to take advantage of the anti-incumbency factor seems to have a slight edge. The BJP's well-oiled election machinery is trying hard to bridge that gap and return to power on its own. The Janata Dal Secular seems to be holding on to its base in the Old Mysuru region and its performance will have a direct bearing on the Congress' show and overall results of the 2023 polls to be announced on May 13.

Around a year ago, it looked as though Congress was clearly ahead of the others and the BJP did not look confident. There were several questions about how the party will face the polls without having its Lingayat strongman BS Yediyurappa at the helm. But, the BJP quickly re-calibrated its strategy and brought the former CM into the game by accommodating him in the party's Parliamentary Board. He is now leading the charge along with Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai. The PM and Union Home Minister Amit Shah's frequent visits have also helped the party push its development agenda and aggressively counter Congress' efforts to set the narrative around corruption. BJP is depending on Modi's popularity to overcome anti-incumbency.

The Congress will make corruption one of its major poll planks apart from freebies and welfare programmes it announced as Congress Guarantees. P4



SC slams states for being 'impotent' on hate speech

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

TERMING hate speech as a vicious circle, the Supreme Court on Wednesday reprimanded states for failing to curb it. "This is going on because state is impotent, powerless and doesn't act in time. Why do we have the state at all if it is silent?" Justice K M Joseph wondered.

The judge said, "This hate thing is a vicious circle. The moment politics and religion are separated and politicians stop using religion in politics, hate speeches will go away... Some sort of mechanism needs to be developed by the state so that we can curb this kind of statements."

Taking strong exception to fringe elements making hate speeches, Justice B V Nagarathna, during the hearing said, "The idea of fraternity was so much there earlier but now I'm sorry to say the cracks are coming. There must be restraint on every citizen." She suggested that citizens could take a pledge not to vilify other members of the society.

"We had orators like Nehru, Vajpayee. People from rural areas used to come to listen to them. Now fringe elements from all sides are making these statements. Are we now going to take contempt of court action against all Indians?" she asked. The hearing witnessed exchange of sharp remarks between Solicitor General Tushar Mehta and Justice Joseph with Mehta asking the judge to not only single out hate speeches in Maharashtra but also look at instances in states like Kerala and Tamil Nadu. He cited a DMK leader's rant against Brahmins in Tamil Nadu and a hate speech by a child at a rally in Kerala, adding, "Let us not be selective."

Deal to ramp up Russia oil imports

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

INDIA's oil imports from Russia, which jumped 11 times in 2022-23 amid worsening geopolitical tensions, are set to hit record highs with Indian Oil Corporation inking a pact with Russia's largest oil producer Rosneft to 'substantially' ramp up oil supplies. Russia will also diversify the grades of crude oil it supplies to India.

The deal assumes significance as it comes at a time when India is increasingly facing diplomatic pressure by Western countries to curtail imports of 'cheaper crude' from Russia.

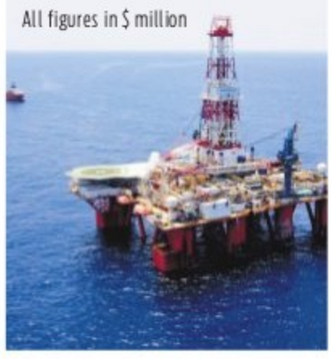
India, the third largest oil importer in the world, has been ignoring such calls citing its domestic energy needs and has increased Russian oil imports considerably in the past year.

On Wednesday, Rosneft CEO Igor Sechin and IOC chairman Shrikant Madhav Vaidya signed the agreement in the presence of Minister of Petroleum and Natural Gas Hardeep S Puri.

TOP CRUDE OIL SUPPLIERS TO INDIA IN FY2022-23

Countries	2020-21	2021-22	2022-23 (Apr-Jan)
Iraq	12,873	26,381	28,694
Saudi	10,753	19,706	24,793
Russia	944	2,256	24,700
UAE	7,361	10,701	14,285
USA	5,373	9,541	9,380

All figures in $ million



The agreement, however, did not indicate volumes. The two companies also discussed ways of expanding cooperation between Rosneft and Indian companies in the entire value chain of the energy sector, including possibilities of making payments in national currencies.

According to energy cargo tracker Vortexa, India imported 35% of its total crude from Russia in February 2023, which is 1.62 million barrels per day. India's other top four traditional oil suppliers are Iraq, Saudi Arabia, UAE and the US (see chart).

According to the commerce ministry, Russia has for the first time become one of the five largest trading partners of India, thanks to ballooning crude oil imports. The volume of trade between the countries in 2022 reached $38.4 billion.

"Thus, the goal set by the leaders of our countries to increase turnover to $30 billion by 2025 has been achieved in advance," said the head of Rosneft.

Indian companies ONGC Videsh Ltd, Oil India Limited, Indian Oil Corporation and Bharat PetroResources have been owners of 49.9% of Rosneft's subsidiary JSC Vankorneft since 2016.

Ballari gets state's youngest mayor

KIRAN BALANNANAVAR @ Ballari

TWENTY-THREE-YEAR-OLD Triveni D was elected Mayor of Ballari on Wednesday. She is the youngest mayor to be elected in the history of mayoral polls in Karnataka.

Triveni, who is a Congress councilor, represents Ward 4 in Ballari City Municipal Corporation. B Janaki, also a Congress councillor from Ward 33, was elected unopposed as her deputy. Triveni, a paramedical graduate, is also the youngest elected member of the corporation.

She is the daughter of former mayor Savita Bhaye. The mayoral posts were reserved for the Scheduled Caste (SC). Triveni got 44 votes while her opponent from BJP polled 13 votes. The BJP did not field its candidate for the deputy mayor's post.

Triveni told The New Indian Express that it was a proud moment for her and thanked her party for supporting her. "I want to work with all councillors and thank those who voted for me. Together, we can develop Ballari as a model city," she said.

8-year-old US-born Rinpoche coming to India for monastic studies?

BALA CHAUHAN @ Bengaluru

THE eight-year-old US-born Mongolian boy, who was anointed the 10th Khalkha Jetsun Dhampa Rinpoche by the Dalai Lama in an initiation ceremony at Dharamshala on March 8, "may come to India for monastic studies," informed sources told TNIE.

"Following his initiation, the Tulku (reincarnate boy) is now the head of the Jonang tradition of Tibetan Buddhism and the Buddhist spiritual head of Mongolia. There is a possibility of him coming to India for spiritual studies because of the lineage and better monastic facilities. The ninth Khalkha Jetsun Dhampa was affiliated to the Jonang Takten Phuntsok Choeling Buddhist Monastery in Shimla. Some of the monks in Jonang monastery also study at Drepung Monastery in Mundgod in Karnataka. It is possible that the Tulku takes up his monastic studies at these centres," sources added on condition of anonymity.

Of 8,615 polling stations, 2,217 termed 'critical'

19 freebie-happy constituencies located in Palike limits

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

BRUHAT Bengaluru Mahanagara Palike (BBMP) comprises 28 assemblies, of which 19 are expenditure-sensitive, and steps will be taken to curb inducements with increased vigil by election observers, BBMP Chief Commissioner and District Election Officer Tushar Girinath said on Wednesday. The Election Commission has fixed May 10 as polling date, and counting on May 13.

Girinath said there are 8,615 polling stations, of which 2,217 are critical. CRPF battalions will join the police force, and on the day of polling, there will be live streaming. "These polling stations are termed critical due to their polling history: 90 per cent polling, with over 75 per cent voting in favour of a particular candidate, many single voters, violence, attempts to rig and other factors," said Girinath. An app is being developed to give details of polling booths, queue and parking area near the station to encourage voters, he added.

Returning Officers have been appointed for all 28 constituencies. During nomination, the candidate can file nominations at their office addresses.

"Returning Officers and Assistant Returning Officers will be responsible for everything in their jurisdiction, with regard to the election process," Girinath said. Deputy commissioners of police, income-tax officers, excise officials and commercial tax officials will work under additional district election officers.

To enforce the election code of conduct, 11 checkposts have been created in Bengaluru constituencies bordering Tamil Nadu. With regard to first-time voters, he said the earlier published final list has over 1 lakh voters, and hopes that more youngsters will enrol, and the list could go up to 1.30 lakh new voters. "Additions can be made to the voters' list till April 10," said Girinath.

On ballot voting for those aged over 80, and persons with disabilities, the commissioner said a house-to-house survey will be done, and steps taken. To aid them at polling booths, permanent ramps are being installed, and work will be completed by March 31.

With regard to violation of poll code and freebies, Girinath said 27 cases have been booked so far and over Rs 15 lakh in cash seized in Bengaluru Central. Items like sarees, cookers, silver and sewing machines have been seized.

Tushar: City needs 37K poll officials

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

AS per protocol, 37,000 polling officials are needed in Bengaluru, and the BBMP plans to source the data of 68,000 persons. At present, data for 42,000 people is ready, BBMP Chief Commissioner and District Election Officer Tushar Girinath, and Special Commissioner Ujwal Kumar Ghosh stated.

The officials said that 3,500 more persons will be ready in a few days, and will include bank employees, most of them from Group B and C. From Group D, 6,000 persons will be roped in, they said.

With regard to urban voter apathy, voter turnout in 2018 was low, compared to 2013. Girinath said to ensure voting percentage goes up this election, meetings are being held with resident welfare associations, and they will be encouraged to conduct awareness forums with regard to voting.

On VVPAT machines, Girinath said the machines had already arrived, and the first-level check was done four days ago. "We need to inform political parties and ask them to come and check. Five per cent of the machines are already used for training of officials, and are marked with yellow stickers. The unused machines are marked with green stickers, and will be opened during voting," said Girinath, adding that all protocols will be followed to store the machines in a strongroom.

WORK ON 'MISSING LINK' PICKS UP PACE

S LALITHA @Bengaluru

BYP-KR PURA LINE

IN a major step towards completion of the crucial missing link in Bengaluru Metro's Eastern Extension line, the final segment out of 72 numbers was erected on Tuesday. With the completion of this job, the elevated viaduct portion (on which tracks are laid) between Baiyappanahalli and KR Pura Metro stations, have been completed, bringing the possibility of completing the line by June-end, a reality.

ITD Cementation is carrying out works for BMRCL. A Metro source said, "The viaduct comprises 72 segmental spans, five composite girders and one open web girder across the Bengaluru-Salem railway line. The last span, running 31 metres, was launched on Monday (March 28) and 11 segments had to be erected on it. The final segment work was completed on Tuesday."

A senior BMRCL official said the span running 31 metres was being readied between pillars 26 and 27. A segment runs 3 metres, is 2.1 metres in height and 8.8 metres wide. They were being transported from the yard at Kanchenahalli, he said. The portion between K R Pura and Benniganahalli was completed earlier, and work is on along the stretch towards Baiyappanahalli. The challenging job of creating an open web girder weighing 550 tonnes was launched above the Bengaluru-Salem railway tracks on February 3.

Asked about other works to be completed, another Metro official said, "The tracks have to be laid and Benniganahalli Metro Station (old name Jyotipura) has to be completed. The skeletal structure for the station is in place. Trial runs have to be completed, and CMRS called for safety inspection," he said. BMRCL was on course to complete it within three months, he added.

With the launch of the 13.71km line between K R Pura and Whitefield Kadugodi on Saturday, non-completion of the nearly 3-km link between K R Pura and Baiyappanahalli came in for much criticism as Metro connectivity gets disrupted mid-way.

B'luru needs autos, bike taxis, but they have to be regulated: Experts

AKNISREE KARTHIK @Bengaluru

AMIDST the tussle between autorickshaw drivers and bike taxi riders, mobility experts say that both are unique modes of transport in developing economies like India and urge that both can have a complimentary role if they are regulated. They point out that the bike taxi concept is in practice in other countries for decades, aiding short trips and providing first and last-mile connectivity.

Of late, there have been many instances of auto drivers attacking bike taxi riders and urging the government to impose a ban on bike taxis. On the other hand, bike taxi riders are demanding a safe environment to operate bike taxis.

Urban mobility expert Shreya Gadepalli said bike taxis are a recent entrant in the Indian market, but have been around for decades across the developing world, especially Southeast Asia and Africa, as a popular informal transport service.

"Bike taxis manage to cut through traffic snarls, getting passengers to their destinations quickly, and at a low fare. No wonder they are gaining traction in Indian cities, especially among young men" she said.

"Bike taxis are a competition to not only auto rickshaws, but also bus services which suffer from poor last-mile connectivity. Bikes are hard to compete with for short and medium-distance trips," Shreya added, but highlighted the need for regulation to ensure safety of both passengers and drivers.

An expert from the Indian Institute of Science, Dr Ashish Verma, said, "Both auto-rickshaws and bike taxis are unique modes that are more typical in developing economies like India and other similar countries and not so much in developed economies." He lamented that both autos and bike taxis are unregulated, because of which, the tussle for livelihood is happening. He adds that if regulated regularly, both can have complementary roles.

Give deadline for Ballari Rd widening: HC to BBMP

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

THE Karnataka High Court on Wednesday asked the BBMP to file a comprehensive response indicating the deadline for completing the widening work of Ballari Road from Mehkri Circle to Cauvery Junction and Jayamahal Road, and from Mehkri Junction to Cantonment Railway Station.

A division bench of Chief Justice Prasanna B Varale and Justice MGS Kamal passed the order after going through an affidavit submitted by the BBMP during the hearing of a PIL filed by NGO Samarpana Socio-Cultural Organisation in 2020.

BBMP's affidavit says a majority of road-widening work is completed | FILE

It was stated in the affidavit that a majority of the road-widening between Mekhri Circle and Cauvery Junction is completed and the remaining would be completed as early as possible, preferably in a span of a month-and-a-half.

The court said the affidavit is focusing on a particular part of the road-widening project, from Gate 4 of Palace Grounds to Cauvery Junction, and 90 per cent of asphalting is completed.

At this stage, "we must note that it creates an impression that the entire work of road-widening is 90 per cent... This being the position, this is for the court to seek a response from BBMP on what is the position of the entire road widening project and to what extent complete, what is time stipulated for completing the entire widening, what are the safety measures taken by the BBMP to avoid mishaps such as accidents in view of widening work on heavy traffic roads and particularly night hours because non-availability of cautionary sign boards", the court said.

The BBMP stated that it needs to complete the construction of Storm Water Drain (SWD) chambers on the stretch situated on the extreme left side of the road between Gate 4 and Cauvery Junction.

IISc faculty awarded for work in science

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@Bengaluru

FIVE faculty members from the Indian Institute of Science (IISc) received state awards for their contributions in their respective fields. The scientists were awarded by the Karnataka State Council for Science and Technology (KSCST) for their contributions in the fields of biology, chemistry and engineering. The council recently released the recipient list for the awards from 2020 and 2021.

Nominations were invited in April 2022, wherein as many as 330 nominations were received. The selection committee, chaired by former ISRO chairman A S Kiran Kumar, selected and released a list of 28 scientists and engineers for the awards in various categories. These include the Sir M Visvesvaraya Award for Senior Scientists, Dr Raja Ramanna Award for Scientists/Engineers, Sir CV Raman Award for Scientists, Prof Satish Dhawan Award for Young Engineers and Dr Kalpana Chawla Award for Women Scientists.

Of these, the most number of awards were given to scientists from IISc. Prof RV Ravikrishna of the Department of Mechanical Engineering, Prof S Natarajan of the Solid State and Structural Chemistry Unit, Prof Balaji Narayanaswamy Kithiganahalli of the Department of Microbiology and Cell Biology, Prof Supradeepa VR of the Centre for Nano Science and Engineering, and Prof Suryasarathi Bose of the Department of Materials Engineering, were named as recipients of various awards. Meanwhile, scientists from NIMHANS, University of Mysore, Tumkur University, the National Centre for Biological Sciences, Karnataka University and others were also given awards.

ARIES (Mar 21 - Apr. 20)
You may continue to keep a low profile and maintain your distance until you are absolutely sure what other people are doing. The indications are indeed hopeful, but you don't want to jump in too soon. Signs of good fortune today will be strengthened in a few days' time, but should require careful handling.

TAURUS (Apr. 21 - May 21)
What the future holds emotionally is now being signposted by Venus. This challenging pattern indicates that your hopes will rise, but you should realise that if they are to be satisfied there must be a little more input from you. That's the bottom line!

GEMINI (May 22 - June 21)
Personally and professionally you now have far too much going for you to be sidetracked by the emotional fall-out from a partner's actions. You must now put the past behind you and get on with creating the future. There really is no alternative!

CANCER (June 22 - July 23)
Take refuge in your shell if you think it will do you good. When other people come knocking you may let them in, but only if they swear to respect your secrets and not to laugh at you! When your confidence is restored you will be able to turn the tables on them. Your patience will be rewarded.

LEO (July 24 - Aug. 23)
Social stars remain bright to the extent that, even at work, friendly collaboration with colleagues seems to be essential. One of your best moves will be to gather allies around you and make sure that, when the time comes, you have the support you need. That's the least that you deserve.

VIRGO (Aug. 24 - Sept. 23)
You may push the boat out at work, and aim for the top job. Even if you don't get it you should at least draw attention to your many gifts and talents. Elsewhere, even at home, insist that you have your time under the spotlight. You never know - other people might be happy to take a back seat.

LIBRA (Sept. 24 - Oct. 23)
This is bound to be a time of challenging situations, although something, an unseen hand if you like, will seem to be opening doors for you. Focus on legal questions, ethical matters and travel plans just for now, and tackle cash quandaries when you've got the groundwork sorted out.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24 - Nov. 22)
Close associates may not be pleased with the way you have changed your mind, but really one would have thought they'd be pleased to see a little flexibility. Perhaps the truth will dawn on them in a few days' time! When that has happened you will be ready to make your next move.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23 - Dec. 22)
Sometimes life singles you out for special treatment. You may be thinking 'why me'? The answer is because the finger of fate is pointing at you and urging you to seize chances for self-improvement, polishing up your partnerships in the process.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 23 - Jan. 20)
Events on the home front are bound to encourage you to make the necessary improvements. This is very much a moment for rolling up your sleeves and getting on with it, rather than expecting somebody else to step in. If you want them to make the first move you might be waiting forever!

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 - Feb. 19)
Deep down, you have creative gifts which have so far remained untapped. This is one of those moments when you can do no better than take determined steps to exploit all that buried creative power. And if you need to learn a new skill first, find the best teacher you can.

PISCES (Feb. 20 - Mar 20)
Uncertainty at home still seems to be the main feature of your life, and it may even be colouring your ability to achieve your worldly ambitions. Go with it for now, and wait for current pressures to dissipate, as I'm sure they will. Just give it time.

Despite ban, e-cigarettes sold openly in market, reveals survey

'Coordinated effort at Centre and state level is need of the hour'

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

DESPITE a ban on electronic cigarettes by the Union Government, they are found to be easily available in tobacco shops and sold to children below the age of 18.

This was revealed in a recent survey conducted by five organisations led by the Voluntary Health Association of India in seven states — Karnataka, Telangana, Delhi, Assam, Goa, Haryana, and Uttar Pradesh.

Most of the vendors were not aware of the law banning e-cigarettes and the survey found that the products were available online and were getting delivered to the doorstep in two days without any age verification.

A rapid survey and sample collection were done to ascertain evidence of the violation of the e-cigarette ban wherein shops/vendors were randomly selected for the investigation. The survey was conducted and evidence was gathered in both online and offline modes.

"A coordinated effort at the centre and state level is urgently needed to ensure the e-cigarettes ban is effective," said Dr Prof Ashok Patil, National Law School of India University.

In the enforcement drives conducted in Bengaluru till March 21, it was revealed that more than Rs 8.9 lakh worth of e-cigarettes (681 numbers) and illegal foreign cigarettes (805 packs) were seized under the Prohibition of Electronic Cigarettes Act – 2019 and Cigarettes and Other Tobacco Products Act 2003 (COTPA 2003).

"E-cigarettes contain nicotine which causes addiction leading to respiratory and cardiovascular diseases. The public should be vigil, and provide information on the venues selling e-cigarettes for officials to take appropriate action" said Dr Ramesh Bilimagga, a renowned oncologist.

Man sleeping inside car charred to death

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

AN unidentified man, aged around 40, sleeping inside a car was burnt alive after the car caught fire in Bhadrappa Layout under Kodigehalli police station limits. Efforts are on to establish his identity. The police said old cars are parked at a scrap yard in Bhadrappa Layout and a car caught fire in the wee hours of Wednesday. Fire tenders rushed to the spot and doused the fire before it spread to other vehicles.

"A body was found in the car that caught fire. As per preliminary probe, he was destitute and slept inside the car every night. It is being investigated whether it was an accidental fire or someone lit the car intentionally," the police added.

HC SEEKS STATE'S RESPONSE TO DENIAL OF PERMISSION TO PROSECUTE ENGINEER

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

EXPRESSING shock over denial of permission to prosecute an engineer, who released Rs 5 crore for work done in three days when all offices remained closed due to lockdown in 2020, the High Court of Karnataka has sought the state government's response.

"A perusal of documents shocks the conscience of the court... It further shocks as to how the state/competent authority has declined to grant sanction citing that a similar case is pending before the Lokayukta, notwithstanding the fact that on the said date, the proceedings before the Lokayukta had been closed. K Srinivas, who has retired as Executive Engineer, Hemavathi Edadande Nala Division, KR Pet, Mandya, has not bartered away his money or the competent authority, who has rejected the sanction, has not lost his money. What is bartered away is public money," Justice M Nagaprasanna observed.

In spite of the lockdown, Srinivas issued a work order on March 27, 2020, to construct a retaining wall, strengthen the waste weirs and the sluice canal of Hosaholalu Doddakere to a certain PK Shivaramu. The contractor completed the work in just three days, and submitted a bill stating that it was a running accounts bill. The Rs 5.02-crore bill was immediately cleared after approval from Srinivas, the court said.

The petitioner, Nagegowda from Mandya district, moved the court urging it to quash an order dated March 1, 2022, passed by the state declining to grant permission to prosecute Srinivas.

When he was in service, Srinivas applied for an exemption under Section 4(G) of the Karnataka Transparency in Public Procurement Act, contending that certain works had to be executed immediately and secured the exemption. This became a subject matter of a complaint before the Lokayukta, which closed it after examining the records stating that there was no violation of law in securing 4(G) exemption.

The petitioner registered a private complaint pursuant to which an FIR was registered. The government's sanction was sought to proceed further by the investigating officer. But the government declined stating that a similar complaint was pending before the Lokayukta.

Meds get costly, experts suggest Jan Aushadi Kendras as alternative

NAMRATA SINDWANI @ Bengaluru

WITH the Department of Pharmaceuticals approving a 12.12 per cent price hike for essential drugs on Monday, experts suggest citizens buy generic medicines from Jan Aushadhi Kendras.

PS Bhagavan, a retired deputy director, Pharmacy Council of India (PCI), said individual customers will be the most affected by this price hike as it will increase the cost of treatment in both private and government settings. Especially people from middle and lower income groups must consider buying medicines from Jan Aushadhi Kendras that are as good as branded medicines and are much cheaper.

He said it is the individuals, not private and government hospitals who will be affected the most as hospitals get big discounts on their large quantum of purchases.

He explained that the price of branded medicines is affected because of the wholesale price index (WPI), availability/import of drugs through the international market and marketing cost. A field officer from Bengaluru, Anupam Pathak, told TNIE that the Jan Aushadhi Kendras are doing well and several of them have crossed revenues of over Rs 1 crore per annum.

The aim of these kendras was to supply quality medicines at affordable prices. Pathak said the burden of diseases is equal for both high and low income group people, but only those who are financially unstable end up facing problems as they have to spend a major chunk of their earnings on buying expensive medicines. Steps are being taken to expand such aushadhi kendras across the country to benefit people from all economic backgrounds, he added.

Currently, there are 1,050 kendras functioning across 31 districts in Karnataka providing 1,076 medicines and 145 surgical consumables.

In the past two weeks, State Election Commission officials have seized cash and articles together worth Rs 92.89 crore, during the pre-model code of conduct period. According to the Election Commission, this amount is more than what was seized during the 2019 Lok Sabha elections in Karnataka

Model code of conduct kicks in, stage set for polls

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE
@ Bengaluru

WITH the Election Commission of India announcing the schedule for Karnataka Assembly election on Wednesday, political parties and the administration machinery are gearing up for the crucial elections. Soon after the poll dates were announced, the model code of conduct came into effect, and Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai and his ministers handed over their official cars and started using their private vehicles.

The model code will be applicable not just to all candidates, political parties and the government in Karnataka, but also to the Union government, preventing it from making announcements and passing policy decisions pertaining to Karnataka.

The chief minister and ministers are not allowed to club their official duties with the election work till the model code is in place.

Also, government officials cannot be transferred, and, if there is an absolute need, the government has to place its requests before the Election Commission and wait for its approval. Members of Legislative Assembly and Parliament are not allowed to release their grants for any public works for now.

Chief Secretary Vandita Sharma wrote to all additional secretaries and secretaries of various departments asking them to ensure that there is no violation of the model code. If any work has to be taken up that needs to be exempted from the model code, it has to be brought before the review committee headed by her and reasons have to be presented. The proposal will then be sent to the Chief Election Commission of India for approval.

As per the model code guidelines, parties and candidates are not allowed to make personal remarks against leaders and workers of other parties. They also cannot utter communal or casteist comments that will trigger hatred among communities. Public places like grounds and helipads cannot be used by only one party and religious places should be out of bounds for political campaigning.

Even before the formal announcement on polls was made, the Chief Electoral Officer of Karnataka had begun poll-related vigilance. Vehicles were being checked at checkposts along the borders with other states. The staff have seized gifts, money and liquor stocked by leaders to distribute among voters.

BJP is ready for polls, says confident Bommai

Bengaluru: Chief Minister Basavaraj Bommai on Wednesday said that the BJP is prepared to face the Assembly election to be held on May 10. He said that the BJP has a strong cadre and the party has already held several campaigns, including sankalpa yatras and vijaya sankalpa yatras. "People are in our favour. Schemes of the Union Government, grants for infrastructure, welfare schemes of the State Government, major decisions taken in favour of farmers, women, youth, SC/STs, OBCs, assistance to the poor, drinking water schemes in rural areas, distribution of 10kg rice during the Covid-19 pandemic, and Raitha Vidyanidhi Schemes have made people support the BJP. The demand to hike the quota for SC/STs that was pending for 40 years was fulfilled by the BJP government," the CM said.

CM cancels programmes as EC announces poll

BANSY KALAPPA @ Bengaluru

AT the last minute, Chief Minister Basavraj Bommai cancelled his official visit to Koppal, Haveri and Dharwad on Wednesday in anticipation of the Election Commission of India announcing the dates for the Assembly elections in Karnataka that would lead to the model code of conduct coming into play. His visit to Vijayapura and Bagalkot that were scheduled for Thursday too stand cancelled.

In 2018, the then chief minister Siddramaiah of Congress, who was on his way to inaugurate a KMF facility in Chikkaballapur, had to return in a private car after the sudden announcement of elections on March 27. Siddaramaiah and his entourage had a cup of coffee and returned without inaugurating the facility, said members of the then chief minister's office. Talking to TNIE, former chief minister Jagadish Shettar recalled how in 2013, programmes for the day had to be cancelled and official vehicles returned. Shettar said he had to switch over to a personal vehicle immediately.

On Wednesday, cabinet ministers surrendered their vehicles and arrived at the residence of Bommai in their private vehicles without the escort and pilot vehicles.

The model code of conduct is enforced to ensure a level playing field for all parties and contestants, explained former chief electoral officer Sanjeev Kumar, who supervised the elections in 2018 and 2019. He said the model code prevents some from enjoying more access to resources like cars, guesthouses etc. Obviously, the idea is to ensure the facilities are not monopolised by the ruling party.

To stop the misuse of money power, the Election Commission of India places restrictions even on the movement of cash vans. Despite such curbs, some recalled how ambulances were used to transport cash in Ballari, Raichur and surrounding areas during the previous elections. On the BJP list of candidates, sources at the CMO said the core committee is working on it and the party needs to follow certain procedures.

Cong hopes to start its revival from Karnataka

IT is yet to be seen how the government's reservation gambit will play out. The BJP government hiked ST and ST quota, scrapped the 4% reservation in 2B in Other Backward Classes (OBC) for Muslims and reallocated it to Lingayats and Vokkaligas. Muslims, who are moved to the Economically Weaker Section quota, are not happy. A section of the Banjara community is angered by the state government's move on the internal reservation in the SC. They have taken to the streets in several places including Yediyurappa's home district Shivamogga. If the government fails to take them into confidence, it could impact the party's prospects at the polls.

Many senior BJP leaders also admit that they face anti-incumbency to some extent and are making efforts to overcome it. Unlike in Gujarat and Uttar Pradesh, the party may not go for drastic measures like dropping many sitting MLAs to overcome anti-incumbency, but that is also not ruled out in some assembly seats. The results of the by-polls to the assembly, Belagavi Lok Sabha seat as well as elections to the legislative council indicated that it is not going to be easy for the BJP as the Congress — especially leaders at the ground level — will fight hard to retain their political hold.

For the first time, the Old Mysuru will witness a triangular contest as the BJP is attempting to gain a foothold in the region. In Kalyan Karnataka and Kittur Karnataka Congress hopes to improve on its 2018 performance, while BJP will have an advantage in the Coastal region. Central Karnataka and Bengaluru will witness a tough contest between the two national parties. Karnataka assembly polls are crucial for the BJP, which is trying to expand its base in other Southern states. It is equally important for Congress, which hopes to start its nationwide revival from Karnataka ahead of the 2024 Lok Sabha polls. As we see it now, it could be anybody's game.

Single-phase polling a challenge for the Big 3

DEVARAJ B HIREHALLI
@ Bengaluru

THE Election Commission of India (ECI) on Wednesday announced that the Karnataka Assembly polls will be conducted in a single phase as done in 2013 and 2018. The state will go to polls on May 10 and the results will be declared on May 13.

Both the Ruling BJP and the Opposition Congress had made an appeal to the Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar during his last visit to the state to conduct the election in a single phase.

But experts feel the decision could be disadvantageous for the BJP, which currently is in power both at the Centre and Karnataka.

A multi-phase election could have possibly helped the BJP roll out remedial measures, even from the Centre, if the outcome of the exit polls after the first phase was not in its favour.

Former Lok Sabha MP VS Ugrappa of the Congress recalled to TNIE one such instance. "In 1985, after the first phase of polling was over, the then CM Ramakrishna Hegde got information that the ruling Janata Party was trailing. In an additional manifesto, the party announced Rs 2 per kg of rice, sarees and dhoti sets at Rs 25 per unit, among other steps. Eventually, the party won 139 seats," he recalled. Ugrappa, however, welcomed the ECI's decision to hold a single-phase polling and said it will help in free and fair elections.

With Karnataka the gateway to the South for the BJP, the party is banking heavily on the charisma of Prime Minister Narendra Modi to overcome a possible anti-incumbency wave against the Basavaraj Bommai government. "Modi would have campaigned extensively if the polling was in two phases and it would have had a cascading effect," another political analyst remarked.

BJP state general secretary Ashwath Narayan, welcoming single-phase polling, observed that it will curtail dual voting and also keep a check on election expenditure. "The expenditure of the candidates contesting in the second phase would have gone up and in last Lok Sabha polls, which was held in two phases, a candidate had declined to share the stage with star campaigners as he feared the expenditure of the event will be more than the limit prescribed by the ECI," he elaborated.

The BJP has completed one round of campaigning and single-phase polls will not have any adverse effect on it as national leaders will come and give a final touch to the campaigning, he clarified.

In the 2018 Assembly polls, the BJP had won 104 seats, with a vote share of 36.35%, followed by Congress winning 80 seats (38.14% vote share). The JDS came third winning 37 seats with a vote share of 18.3%.

The single-phase polling may also prove to be disadvantageous for the regional party JDS which has only two-star campaigners — former PM HD Deve Gowda and former CM HD Kumaraswamy. But Kumaraswamy welcomed the decision and sought that suspicion over EVMs in the public sphere in general should be cleared.

Single-phase polling has also dashed the plans of the Congress high command to extensively use CLP leader Siddaramaiah as its star campaigner.

Leader of the Opposition in the Council BK Hariprasad also welcomes single-phase polling.

"We welcome the move. This will help in curtailing illegal use of money and muscle power. I appeal to the ECI to conduct an impartial election," he added.

AAP: Free power, better govt schools

ENS @ Bengaluru

AAM Aadmi Party (AAP) announced that it will guarantee full powers to Lokayukta and ensure zero corruption in the state. The party said it will provide up to 300 units of free power each month for domestic users, government schools will be better than private schools like in Delhi, government guarantee to banks for higher education loans, free city bus transport for students, fee committee to fix and regulate private school fees and permanent job for contractual teachers.

AAP MP Sanjay Singh released the 'APP Karnataka Guarantees' on Wednesday. AAP promised Delhi model mohalla clinics, tablets to surgery will be free, polyclinic in each assembly constituency for multi-speciality consultation and super specialty hospital in every assembly constituency for major procedures and surgeries.

For youth, the party said it will guarantee jobs, a Rs 3,000-unemployment allowance till a job is found, six months of employability training with a stipend of Rs 5,000 per month for Class 12 pass students and the voting age for local polls lowered to 16. AAP said it will provide 80% reservation in jobs for locals. The party also promised free city bus transport for women, among other schemes.

High-pitched political contest on the cards

HE said the ECI is ensuring 100% enrolment of eligible "Particularly Vulnerable Tribal Groups" (PVTGs) in Karnataka. Sharing details, the ECI chief said 40 "Ethnic polling stations" (EPSs) will be set up for PVTGs. Among top 20 low voter turnout constituencies, nine were in urban areas in the 2019 LS elections. He said of the 224 Assembly constituencies, 36 have been reserved for Scheduled Castes (SCs) and 15 for STs. The term of the Assembly will end on May 24.

Karnataka is set to witness a high-pitched political contest this time with BJP leaving no stone unturned to retain power and the Congress going all out to wrest power from the former. JDS is likely to play a role in turning the elections into a triangular contest.

PKD Nambiar, an acclaimed political analyst in Delhi, said the outcome of Karnataka polls will also set a stage for the 2024 LS elections and have its bearing on the Assembly elections in other states, including Rajasthan, Telangana and Madhya Pradesh.

Rahul's 'Satyameva Jayate' rally from Kolar

ENS @ Bengaluru

CONGRESS leader Rahul Gandhi will launch a 'Satyameva Jayate' campaign against the BJP's alleged misuse of power, in Kolar on April 5. He was disqualified for his remarks on the 'Modi' surname in Kolar on March 13, 2019, in the run-up to the 2019 Lok Sabha polls. "Rahul will lead a nationwide campaign with Mahatma Gandhi's saying 'Satyameva Jayate' (Truth will Triumph) from Kolar, where he had made the earlier statement," KPCC president D K Shivakumar said on Wednesday, addressing a joint press conference with former Union minister Anand Sharma.

Rahul's struggle is to safeguard democracy, with the objective of ushering in political change, as the BJP has insulted the country with blatant misuse of power, he remarked. Sharma said the Congress plans to stage protests across the country for the next month, to create public awareness as it is not just a question of one party leader but of the Indian democratic system itself. He is attempting to set the tone for the April 5 rally in Kolar, where Rahul is likely to speak about his own statement.

"Rahul's disqualification will not be validated in the upper court as it was effected before he filed a writ petition against the conviction pronounced by the Surat court," Singh said. "Section 8 (1, 2, 3, 4) of the Representation of People Act has defined which offence leads to disqualification. In Rahul's case, disqualification was done before the appeal against the judgment, hence, not valid. According to the Constitution, the head of Parliament is the President, who has to decide on disqualification," he said.

Oppn parties behind stone-throwing incident: Raghavendra

Shivamogga: BJP senior leader BS Yediyurappa's son and MP BY Raghavendra on Wednesday alleged that opposition parties were behind the stone-throwing incident at their house in Shikaripura recently, and it was planned for political gains. The protest purportedly by the Banjara community people against the recent government's decision on internal reservation for Scheduled Castes was just an excuse. It was in fact sponsored by the opposition Congress, he said. "Anti-BJP forces have been successful in misleading people on internal reservation. Though the incident occurred at Shikaripura, some unseen hands in the district and the state have joined together to corner BJP. They had prepared for the protest for 48 hours," he alleged. ENS

Panel ignores NGT order, yet to punish errant officials

Trees were cut in Kodagu 17 years ago; politicians, officials, retired defence personnel involved; panel given month's time to act

BOSKY KHANNA @ Bengaluru

IT has been 17 years since trees were cut 'illegally' in Kodagu, and an appeal was made to take action against the erring forest department officials and politicians involved, but things have not yet moved. Furthermore, the National Green Tribunal (NGT) had given three months' time for the joint committee, set up to look into the matter, to hold a meeting and take action. Yet, nothing was done.

The orders were issued by NGT on December 13, 2022, on Writ Petition 3388/2009 (MA 1379/2017) pertaining to felling of trees on November 3, 2006, in Kodagu and other districts of Western Ghats. The case was earlier heard in the Karnataka High Court.

In its order, the NGT had noted that the Kodagu Deputy Conservator of Forests (DCF) and field officers had taken advantage of government letters and circulars, and given permission to fell trees in eco-sensitive and forest areas rich in biodiversity, without realising the ecological consequences. The NGT also noted that Supreme Court directions were not being followed, and called for a detailed review and guidelines to be issued, to ensure there is no further forest destruction.

Ironically, on December 2, 2008, when the principal chief conservator of forests directed tree officers and the Tree Authority of Kodagu not to give any tree felling permission, the officials even stopped giving permission for felling trees in cases of shade regulation in coffee plantations. Noting this, the NGT ordered that felling of trees within coffee plantations for shade regulation can be given by the tree officer.

Even as the NGT disposed of the case, the committee has not yet acted upon the directions, pointed out experts and petitioners. They said the area which was to be assessed has greened back again due to a long time lapse. Thus, a field survey now is a futile exercise.

Reacting to this, a committee member, seeking anonymity, said: "The committee met twice. Agreed that the report has been delayed, but since it is a first-time case in the forest department and in Karnataka, we are being cautious in our report. A delay of a month or so does not matter, as we don't want to punish the innocent. The committee will not just prepare the report and submit it to the NGT, but also has the power to take legal action. This is a complex case, not just because of the parties (forest staffers, MLCs, MLAs and retired defence personnel) involved, but the area in contention, which is already facing the wrath of various climatic and man-made disasters."

Disqualification of Lakshadweep MP revoked by LS Secretariat

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ New Delhi

NCP leader from Lakshadweep Mohammad Faizal P P stepped into the Lok Sabha on Wednesday for the first time after his disqualification was revoked, weeks after the Kerala High Court suspended his conviction and 10-year jail term in an attempt to murder case.

The LS Secretariat had been criticised for delaying the notification restoring Faizal's membership status. Coming as the notification did in the wake of Rahul Gandhi's disqualification from the Lok Sabha following his conviction in a criminal defamation case, it indicated the possible trajectory of the Congress leader's case could take. Rahul is yet to file his appeal against the verdict.

Faizal's case also came up in the Supreme Court, which gave different indicators. A bench of justices K M Joseph and B V Nagarathna observed, "When there is a prima facie opinion based on materials before the court that it is a case of acquittal only then suspension of conviction and sentence can be done. There cannot be a separate norm for an MP and an MLA for suspension of conviction and sentences."

₹93cr worth freebies seized, ₹4.62cr over '19 LS poll haul

BOSKY KHANNA @Bengaluru

IN the past two weeks, State Election Commission officials have seized cash and articles together worth Rs 92.89 crore, during the pre-model code of conduct (MCC) period. According to the Election Commission, this amount is more than what was seized during the 2019 Lok Sabha elections in Karnataka.

This was also pointed out by Chief Election Commissioner Rajiv Kumar, while announcing the election calendar in New Delhi on Wednesday. He noted that the seizure was much bigger because of increased vigilance, swift action and alert individuals sharing information on a timely basis.

As per Karnataka EC records: "During the 2019 Lok Sabha election, overall seizure was Rs 88,27,45,176. For the Karnataka assembly election 2023, pre-MCC seizure is Rs 92,89,23,305. Of this, the police department seized items worth Rs 50,30,09,107 and Enforcement Directorate attached properties worth Rs 26.21 crore."

"The items seized include cash, liquor, narcotics, precious metals, freebies and many other items. We are also consolidating the details region-wise, so that vigilance can be enhanced, with better focus," the EC official said. He said vigilance and seizures had started after the CEC had said that checks should be intensified even before the poll code kicked in. This is usually not the practice, and none of the political parties were prepared for the surprise raids, he said.

BYPOLL TO JHARSUGUDA ASSEMBLY SEAT ON MAY 10

BHUBANESWAR: The Election Commission on Wednesday announced Jharsuguda assembly constituency will go to bypoll on May 10. The seat had fallen vacant following the murder of minister and sitting MLA Naba Kishore Das on January 29. With the poll barely six weeks away, there is little uncertainty in BJD camp over its candidate except for a last minute change of strategy by Chief Minister and party supremo Naveen Patnaik. Deepali Das, daughter of the minister, is being promoted by the party as its nominee. She has been going round the constituency, meeting voters, attending different programmes and interacting with leaders at the grassroots level for the last one month. Dipali, however, maintained that her family will abide by the decision of the chief minister. "Whoever is chosen by the chief minister, our family will extend full support. Our preparation will be as per the decision of the CM," she said and added that he has all along been supportive towards her family. If Deepali gets BJD ticket, this will be for the second instance daughter of a sitting MLA will be chosen to represent the vacant Assembly seat. The regional outfit had given ticket to Barsha Singh Bariha, daughter of Bijay Ranjan Singh Bariha to contest bypoll from the Padampur Assembly seat on December 5. ENS

No borders here: Pak woman undergoes open heart surgery in B'luru

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Bengaluru

PAKISTANI woman Arifa Bano (43) travelled across boundaries to Bengaluru to get treated for a complex heart condition, mitral regurgitation (leakage of the heart) for over 27 years.

Doctors in Pakistan suggested to Arifa to undergo an open heart surgery, but she was not very keen on it. Finally, she decided to undergo a minimally invasive procedure at Narayana Hrudayalaya in Bengaluru, following suggestions from friends and family.

Dr Uday Khanolkar, senior consultant (interventional cardiology), Narayana Hrudayalaya, said Arifa was diagnosed with mitral regurgitation at the age of 16, and was advised to undergo valve surgery by repair or replacement, which typically requires open heart surgery. She had been experiencing breathlessness for over a decade, and her condition had gradually worsened over the past 1.5 years, significantly affecting her daily routine.

She underwent the 'Mitra-Clip' procedure in which a small clip is inserted into the heart via a small puncture near the thigh, which is minimally invasive and can be performed in complex heart cases. She was hospitalised for 72 hours and discharged in a normal-active condition.

Proton therapy

In another recent case, a 12-year-old boy from Bengaluru suffering from pinealoblastoma—a rare cancer occurring in the pineal gland of the brain— was also successfully treated with proton beam therapy (PBT) at Apollo Proton Cancer Centre (APCC), which is also South Asia's only proton therapy centre.

Venkata Srisaravana Vemula was diagnosed with the rare disease in October 2018. Post receiving five cycles of chemotherapy and consultations at APCC Chennai, craniospinal radiation (CSI) using proton beam therapy, followed by tumour bed boost using IMRT (Intensity Modulated Radiation Therapy) was planned for him. Treatment was started on March 25, 2019, post which the size of the pineoblastoma lesion significantly reduced. Doctors from Apollo Hospital said radiation therapy is bringing new hope for patients with cancer.

The incidence of patients with cancer of the nervous system (CNS) has been rising in India, with an increased mortality rate and advancement in technology is helping treat terminal cases.

They said that CNS ranges from 5 to 10 per 1,00,000 people and accounts for 2 per cent of total cancer cases globally.

AIADMK leader O Panneerselvam leaves the Assembly in Chennai on Wednesday

HC to hear OPS pleas against order on polls

ENS @ Chennai

THE appeals filed by deposed AIADMK leader O Panneerselvam and his supporters challenging the single judge's order refusing to stay the general secretary polls of the party will be heard by a division of Madras High Court on Thursday.

When the appeals filed by OPS came up for hearing before the bench of Justices R Mahadevan and Mohammed Shaffiq on Wednesday, the counsels representing OPS supporters R Vaithilingam, PH Manoj Pandian and JCD Prabhakar said the petitions filed by their clients were not listed, and so, the ones filed by OPS be taken up along with them. They also requested the court to dispense with production of the single judge's order duly signed by him.

Accepting it, the bench posted the matter to Thursday and directed the registry to list them accordingly.

Embattled OPS and his supporters moved the division bench with the appeals soon after Justice K Kumaresh Babu rejected the interim applications filed by OPS and his supporters seeking a stay on the general secretary elections. The judge said they have no prima facie case and balance of convenience in favour of them in granting the stay on the general secretary elections.

The judge also held the resolutions of July 11, 2022 general council meeting to the effect of abolishing the posts of coordinator, joint coordinator, electing EPS as interim general secretary and reviving the post of general secretary as valid and observed if a stay was granted, it would affect the party's functioning, and leave it without a leader.

NIA files chargesheet against 3 LeT operatives for planning Hyd attacks

AMIT MUKHERJEE @ New Delhi

THE National Investigation Agency filed a chargesheet on Wednesday against three operatives of Lashkar-e-Taiba (LeT) who were allegedly involved in planning terror attacks in Hyderabad during the Dasara festival in 2022.

Following a comprehensive investigation, the NIA has charged Mohd Abdul Wajid, also known as Zahed, Samiuddin also known as Sami, and Maaz Hasan Farooq also known as Maaz, for their involvement in a terrorist plot to raise funds, acquire explosives and recruit individuals into the LeT. The NIA took over the investigation from Hyderabad police in January this year.

As per NIA sources, four hand grenades were dropped at a remote location near Manoharabad village on the Hyderabad-Nagpur Highway (NH-44) on September 28, 2022. Zahed arranged for the collection of the hand grenade consignment through Sami, and then gave one grenade each to Sami and Maaz. He instructed them to throw the grenades at public gatherings during Dasara.

However, their plans were foiled as they were arrested before they could carry out the attacks. The police recovered the grenades from their possession during a search of their homes, and ₹20 lakh was seized from Zahed.

Probe has revealed that Zahed, Sami, and Maaz were in contact with Farhatulla Ghori, who is classified as an "individual terrorist" according to the Government of India's records. At the same time, they were also associated with LeT leaders and operatives such as Siddiqu Bin Osman, who is also known as Abu Hanzala, Abdul Majeed, who is also known as Chotu, and others. Their plan was to carry out bomb blasts at crowded locations in Hyderabad.

Stalin orders suspension of cop accused of torture

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

CHIEF Minister MK Stalin on Wednesday informed the state assembly that Balveer Singh, hitherto assistant superintendent of police of Ambasamudram sub-division in Tirunelveli district who was accused of torturing suspects in some cases, has been placed under suspension.

Responding to the issue raised by members of various political parties, the CM said his government would not make any compromise on human rights violations at police stations. "Appropriate action will be taken against those involved in custodial torture after getting the inquiry report."

Several members demanded that Balveer Singh be removed from police service forthwith and merely keeping him in 'vacancy reserve' is not enough.

Stalin said over the past two years, caste clashes and murders committed by rowdies have been brought down to a large extent. In 2019, during the AIADMK regime, 1,670 murders took place. But the number of murders has been brought down to 1,596 in 2022. "Police department has been given a free hand and those who commit murders are being arrested quickly, irrespective of their status, and without any partiality," the CM said.

Referring to the murder of Elangovan alias Viyasai Elango, secretary of Perambur south unit of the AIADMK who was hacked to death by five people, the CM said it was found that Elangovan attacked Sanjay in a public place two years ago and Sanjay had planned the murder due to that enmity. Within two hours of receiving complaint, police arrested five people including Sanjay. Of the five, one is a juvenile, the CM said.

On the contention of the Leader of Opposition, Edappadi K Palaniswami, that Elango was murdered due to his stance against sale of narcotic substances, Stalin said, "No such aspect has come up during investigation. The probe is still on."

Defamation suit: No question of apologising to KTR, says Bandi

HYDERABAD: Responding to IT Minister KT Rama Rao's notice seeking ₹100 crore in damages for allegedly defaming him in the TSPSC question paper leak case, BJP State president Bandi Sanjay demanded to know the compensation the BRS government would give to the 30 lakh unemployed youth left in limbo due to the question papers leaks. "There is no question of public apology. I am ready to fight legally for justice," Sanjay said. "I am surprised how the issues being probed by the SIT are being leaked to KTR," he added. ENS

INDIAN EXPRESS IS NOT AN INDUSTRY. IT IS A MISSION.
— Ramnath Goenka

IT'S TOO LATE FOR PROFESSIONAL COURSES IN INDIAN LANGUAGES

Prime Minister Narendra Modi on March 25 in Chikkaballapur, Karnataka, criticised non-BJP political parties for letting down Indian languages in teaching professional courses. He alleged this was done as they did not want students from poor and backward classes to be doctors and engineers. The allegation in an election-bound state demonstrated the attempt to seek political mileage out of it. The reality, however, is that making Indian languages eligible to be mediums to teach professional courses is a Herculean task sought to be taken up too late.

Experts admit that if medium of education is the mother tongue, cognitive skills of such individuals develop better. But, primary and secondary schooling apart, to teach professional courses in Indian languages when they have not been developed adequately to be mediums for medical, engineering and scientific courses, would be chaotic. Although not impossible to achieve, it is replete with challenges. Disadvantages far outweigh the advantages. It would take decades for it to see the light of day, and even end up in a mess. Selecting quality faculty members to teach students in Indian languages, developing native terminologies in technical subjects, and ensuring no confusion in communication when doctors and engineers from various states use different terms for the same processes, would make it a confusing affair. Our ancestors should have had the foresight to equip Indian languages as mediums to teach professional courses at least two centuries ago. For instance, China and Russia teach professional courses in their own languages, but it did not happen overnight. Had Indians done so in a sustained manner, medicine and engineering degrees could have been attainable in our own regional languages today.

Unfortunately, there was no such effort. Thomas Macaulay, British politician and historian, pushed English as a medium of teaching for native Indians in 1835. Thousands of middle- and upper-middle-class Indian youth rooted for English education then, viewing it as the solution to the "intellectual stagnation" in India compared to the European countries. The medium of English in professional courses is a unifier across India today. It is best to retain English for professional courses while Indian languages can support art, culture, theatre, social sciences and humanities—without making it a political issue for votes.

DRASTIC STEPS A MUST TO TREAT WASTE AT SOURCE

Still reeling under the shock of the fire at the Brahmapuram waste plant which lasted for weeks, the Kerala government has asked local bodies to invoke relevant sections under the Kerala Municipal Act and Panchayat Act for implementing the decentralised waste management rules. As per this, not having such a system at home or place of business is set to become a grave offence. The order, issued earlier this week, says that owners of houses having a floor area of above 100 sqm and businesses that lack waste management mechanisms, will face one-year imprisonment and a fine of ₹50,000. The Local Self Government Department (LSGD) has also asked the local bodies to suspend licences of hotels, clubs, marriage halls, malls and shops that lack facilities to treat waste at the source.

The state government has decided to go in for stricter implementation of waste management rules after the Kerala High Court, while taking up the issue of the Brahmapuram fire, directed the Local Self Government Department to use all the available powers. The HC also asked the department to file a report explaining all measures it has taken to address the issue of solid waste management before April 11.

However, the LSGD's order has not gone down well, with some local bodies feeling the order is impractical. They allege that the government is going for knee-jerk reactions to look clean before the HC and warn that hasty actions will only backfire. They also want a longer deadline before enforcing the rules, as there is insufficient preparedness on the ground. The LSGD insists it is forced to enforce the laws strictly as local bodies are not making waste management a key priority despite repeated directives.

While the state needs some drastic measures to address the looming threat of yet another fire in the waste plants, hastily enforcing rules without enough preparedness will not yield the desired results. Rather, there is a possibility of them backfiring. The government must perfect the new practices before going for stringent enforcement. The local bodies, too, must think of reducing the quantity of waste by disposing of it at the source itself—considered a 'good practice' worldwide. As the high court had rightly observed, Kerala is blessed with countless gifts from nature, and all are responsible for acting as guardians of nature. And for this, everyone should join hands, leaving political differences behind.

QUICK TAKE

UNIFORM AGE TO MARRY

The Supreme Court refuses to interfere with men and women having the same marrying age. It's under the legislature's domain, it says. Society needs to debate the matter, and Parliament is the correct forum. But it's everybody's case—including the court's—why make a gender distinction only regarding marriageable age? The liberal argument is it is a patriarchal vestige without any scientific basis and has already been done away with in advanced societies. That it violates fundamental rights of equality and dignity of life is sufficient for a rational debate. All forms of discrimination against women must end, especially this one.

WHEN NETANYAHU ROCKS THE ISRAEL BOAT, NERO STYLE

P R KUMARASWAMY

Impasse to pause! Cornered by unprecedented and unexpected public outcry, Israel's Prime Minister Benjamin Netanyahu is forced to suspend his proposals to overhaul the judiciary temporarily. The spread and reach of the protests are unparalleled in Israel's history. The opposition this time is largely apolitical and rallies around Israel's soul as a thriving democracy and is widespread.

"Let my people go." When Moses roared to Pharaoh Ramses II over four millennia ago, the Jewish prophet was challenging subjugation and seeking more humane relations with one another. The Ten Commandments he brought during the Exodus from Egypt were meant to codify human behaviour and make them accountable to divine laws. This time, ordinary Israelis are playing Moses, seeking accountability and demanding the political class live by the rules, norms and Jewish values.

However, rulers generally turn into Nero whenever their power and positions are challenged, and feel comfortable with courtiers and cronies who are enamoured by their 'righteousness'. This time, Benjamin Netanyahu is playing the Roman emperor and still not fully ready to move away from the destructive path which angered thousands of ordinary citizens. Rather than being reined in by the judiciary, Netanyahu is seeking to make courts subservient to the executive, especially on core issues like the accountability of the elected officials.

For the ruling coalition, the corruption charges against Prime Minister Netanyahu and Interior Minister Aryeh Deri must be nullified at all costs. This antedated post-facto mechanism is critical for the survival of the 64-member coalition. Netanyahu seeks to ensure his stay in office through political control of judicial nominees, curbing judicial activism, and nullifying injunctions against indicted persons serving as cabinet ministers.

In some ways, it is easier to remove dictators from office. Seeing the masses in Tahrir Square, for example, the Egyptian military swiftly pushed out President Hosni Mubarak. Unfortunately, similar options do not exist in Israel. Will the Jerusalem-born Herzi Halevi, the chief of staff of Israel Defence Forces (IDF), walk up to Netanyahu, say, "Your time is up," and escort the longest-serving prime minister of Israel out of his official residence in Balfour Street? Such dramatic moves are rare in democracies as both societies and states act at a snail's pace. Israel is witnessing a struggle between the status quo and change in recent weeks. This time, the proposed judicial reforms are regressive and threaten the very soul of the Jewish state, hence the growing number of protests and protestors.

There is a catch. The demography of Jerusalem has transformed, especially since the late 1990s, and the city has a more religious population than ever before. Tel Aviv, on the contrary, continues to remain the habitat of a more diverse and liberal population. This is the main reason the coastal city has witnessed more protests than Jerusalem. Still, the city where all sovereign institutions are situated is also not trouble-free. In late February, an estimated 100,000 protesters gathered in Jerusalem around Knesset to voice their opposition to the proposed judicial reforms.

While the streets and highways of Israel are teeming with protesters of all hues and affiliations, the ruling coalition is strongly glued by the survival instinct. The prospect of them not getting the same seats in the next Knesset election is a major compulsion. Moreover, the coalition revolves around Netanyahu, the only leader of the Likud who still thrives on the TINA factor. Despite facing periodic dissent and challenges, he remained the party's supreme leader ever since maverick Ariel Sharon bolted out of the Likud in 2005.

By systematically emasculating and outmanoeuvring other challengers and rivals, Netanyahu has established complete control over the party, which also enjoys greater internal discipline than the Labour party. For example, since the pre-state years, Likud and its predecessors only had four leaders—Menachem Begin, Yitzhak Shamir, Ariel Sharon and Netanyahu—against over a dozen Labour leaders who followed founder Prime Minister David Ben-Gurion.

The inability and refusal of Left and Centrist parties to co-opt at least some religious parties or their agendas only worked in favour of Netanyahu. In the current 64-member coalition, 32 seats—exactly half—are made up of religious parties. Hence, the political survival of Netanyahu and religious parties are intertwined.

Recently, there has also been growing opposition within the security establishment, with several reservists refusing to participate in their routine training. Though the numbers are smaller, this is a severe setback to the Israeli military, glorified as the 'people's army'. Reading these public sentiments, Defence Minister Yoav Galant on Saturday expressed his reservation over Netanyahu's push to undermine the judiciary. The former Major General of IDF put Israel's security over Netanyahu's political survival.

As a consummate politician, Netanyahu could ignore, belittle and divert international condemnations, criticisms and caution. As his son Yair did, he and his dwindling supporters can even look for an international, mainly American, campaign against him. Netanyahu might even present the protest as an organised conspiracy to divert attention from Israel's most serious threat: nuclear Iran. Public relations exercises often work internationally but rarely convince ordinary Israelis.

When the Ben-Gurion airport—the most inclusive avenue in today's Israel—was shut down for a few hours, Netanyahu, known for political instinct and survival, recognised the writing on the wall. His decision to dismiss Defence Minister Galant on Saturday, within hours after the latter expressed his reservations over the reforms, only added fuel to the fire.

Far from consolidating his position, Netanyahu is now more vulnerable. Will the next defence minister be more loyal to him or the larger Israeli public, agitated over Netanyahu's battle for survival? By all means, the temporary suspension of judicial reforms could unravel Netanyahu's eventual downfall.

NO FEDERAL OVERRIDE IN INDIA'S DATA PROTECTION LAW

DR AMAR PATNAIK

Rajya Sabha MP, advocate and former CAG bureaucrat

As we deliberate on the new draft version of the Digital Personal Data Protection Bill 2022, earlier introduced as the Personal Data Protection Bill, 2019, we have to look beyond the debate on data collection, storage, and data flow to examine if the proposed regulatory framework is appropriate and commensurate with the federal structure of India.

As opposed to the over 90 clauses in the previous version of the bill, this version has only 30 clauses. It means that large and crucial components of the bill have been left to subsequent rule-making by the Centre, as evidenced by use of the phrase "as may be prescribed" (by the Central government) at 18 places in the draft bill. This raises concerns about excessive delegation. At the same time, the regulatory powers have not been delegated to the state governments, where also a huge amount of personal data of citizens is generated, stored and processed.

In this context, it is important to recognise that the protection of citizens' right to personal data privacy now forms a part of the Constitution as a fundamental right, having been read into Articles 19 and 21 by the Supreme Court in the Puttaswamy judgment. It is, therefore, not being bestowed on the citizens by the Central government or Parliament through its law/rule-making powers. It is not just a statutory right like the Right to Information under the Right to Information Act, but a constitutional right. So, it is by corollary that governments (both Central and states) will also have to subject themselves to equal rigour of the legislation as the private sector.

The draft version of the bill envisages setting up a Data Protection Board (DPB) to regulate the entire regime of digital personal data protection in the country. The Board will be entrusted with handling vast amounts of data collected not just by the Central government but also a wide variety of data sets originating out of state government functions under List II (the State List) of the Seventh Schedule of the Constitution such as health, education, agriculture, law and order, public order, etc. Besides, it will have jurisdiction over data collected, stored and processed during the implementation of state schemes such as Konnect and KALIA for farmers in Odisha, Antyodaya Saral for public service delivery in Haryana, a scheme for human resources in healthcare in Uttar Pradesh, etc. Given that the Central government will exercise greater control over the functioning of the DPB, this control will obviously extend to state government authorities whenever issues of data breach and harm arise. This will inherently raise issues of federal override.

It is vital for India to build a resilient data protection framework with a ground-up approach much like Germany or Australia which are similarly geographically spread-out like India. Even the European Data Protection Board coordinates with the national data protection authorities under the EU GDPR for protecting the privacy of citizens.

It is important to recognise that the protection of citizens' right to personal data privacy now forms a part of the Constitution as a fundamental right

Thus, having a regional presence of data protection authorities at the state levels will not only generate greater awareness about the fundamental right to privacy and provide an effective mechanism to data principals (citizens) to exercise it, but will also engender trust in the ecosystem and the Board by various stakeholders including the state governments. I had stated this in my Dissent Note to the draft bill in 2019. Devolution of enforcement and grievance redressal to regional levels will only increase efficiency and reduce possible operational bottlenecks, as the newly established Board will be expected to regulate approximately 600 million entities.

The Central government seems to have followed central acts like the Income Tax Act, the Customs Act and the TRAI Act in designing a central adjudication body along with satellite adjudication authorities at the state level, but this analogy cannot be applied to the DPB because the former legislations deal with subjects mentioned in the Union list of the Seventh Schedule unlike the DPB which will be asked to decide upon data captured, stored and processed at the state level under the State List subjects too. In case of a data breach at the state level by a state government department/agency, the adjudication process may not lend itself to credibility and trust by the state government if the DPB is controlled by the Central government. In contrast to the DPB model, the structures of the Central Information Commission and State Information Commissions under the Right to Information Act, 2005, and the Central Consumer Protection Commission and State Consumer Protection Commissions under both the old (the Consumer Protection Act, 1986) and the new Consumer Protection Act, 2020, which have decentralised structures, appear more apt for adoption.

If Right to Information can have a decentralised structure at the state level, then why not have a similar system for the DPB ecosystem? What is the inherent distinction between "information" and "data" to be treated differently when they are not placed in two different lists in the Seventh Schedule of the Constitution?

However, the Consumer Protection model will be the most ideal to replicate because, in a broader understanding of the term, a data principal, most often, is a consumer and vice-versa. All goods and services providers are data fiduciaries. The people as consumers will also realise the significance of their personal data rights.

In my Dissent Note, I had also raised apprehension about the independence of this Board (earlier Data Protection Authority) and had argued for establishing a constitutional Data Protection Commission. Since the envisaged Board would be regulating and adjudicating on potential data breaches in various state government apparatuses as well as other constitutional authorities such as the Supreme Court and the high courts, the Central Election Commission, the Comptroller and Auditor General of India, and the Union Public Service Commission, constitutional entrenchment will ensure functional and structural autonomy. It will also obviate criticisms of federal override.

Pawar pause

Rahul's remarks against Savarkar have left Uddhav Thackeray's Shiv Sena faction dissatisfied. That issue was resolved due to the timely intervention of Sharad Pawar. Needless to say, it helped in strengthening the unity of the opposition. The Congress needs to understand that the party's present deplorable condition is due to the absence of a strong leader like Sharad Pawar.

Sharad Pawar and Uddhav Thackeray, while supporting the right to freedom of expression in the Rahul Gandhi disqualification issue, have, at the same time, cautioned him against defaming Savarkar. Is this not plain political expediency?

Police brutality

Apropos of Rights panel takes suo motu case on 'torture' by ASP (Mar 29). It is very shocking to learn that a few poor people were subjected to inhuman and barbaric torture in police custody. One would like to know the response of higher officials like the DGP, home secretary and home minister. People have still not forgotten about the death of the father-son duo in Sathankulam police custody a couple of years ago.

IPS system

That an IPS cop allegedly removed the teeth of 10 men and crushed testicles of two in custody is horrific. Obviously, his shift to another post will never change what prevails among the police. The system of selection of IPS cadres without gauging their humanism is one of the basic reasons for such brutalities.

NEP's impact

In the column, NEP: Change is way forward for public universities (Mar 29), the author brings out the negatives of the NEP changes very accurately, along with its repercussions on universities struggling to adapt to the developments. Slow syllabus changes and disorganised structuring are detrimental to students, as the article highlights.

MGNREGA wages

Apropos of Revised 'MGNREGS' wages need revision to be a survival lifeline (Mar 29). As rightly stated, the proposed increase in the wages is not enough. Another factor which contributes to the struggle is the number of employment days in a year (42 days in 2022–23). This is lower than the guaranteed 100 days. Those who are entirely dependent on work under this flagship scheme are the worst affected.

SC refuses pleas on gender and religion-neutral laws

Uniform Civil Code desirable, but it is a legislative aspect, says SG

SHRUTI KAKKAR @ New Delhi

IN a significant development, the Supreme Court on Wednesday thwarted an attempt to get a direction to the Centre to frame uniform religion and gender-neutral laws governing subjects such as marriage, divorce, inheritance and alimony by refusing to entertain a batch of petitions, saying it cannot direct Parliament to legislate.

"Uniform civil code is desirable but this is a legislative aspect. It cannot be decided on a writ petition," Solicitor General Tushar Mehta submitted before a bench also comprising Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala. "Entertaining this would mean directing enactment of law and mandamus cannot be issued to Parliament to enact a law. We see no reason to also ask it to be considered by law commission as it would aid in legislation," said a bench comprising Chief Justice DY Chandrachud and Justices PS Narasimha and JB Pardiwala.

Disposing of a total of 16 petitions, including those filed by BJP leader Shazia Ilmi and lawyer Ashwini Upadhyay, the top court said, "After taking a considered view of the pleadings and submissions, we are not inclined to entertain the petitions under Article 32. The grant of relief in these proceedings necessitates a direction for enactment of laws -- gender-neutral and religion-neutral legislation as the petitioner has described it.

Union Law Ministry last year while questioning the maintainability and seeking dismissal of the PIL's had submitted before the Supreme Court that court cannot direct Parliament to frame or enact any law. "It is a settled position of law as has been held in the catena of judgments by this court under our constitutional scheme, Parliament exercises sovereign power to enact laws and no outside power or authority can issue a direction to enact a particular piece of legislation. It is respectfully submitted that a writ of mandamus cannot be issued to the legislature to enact a particular legislation," the affidavit states.

It has further been added in the affidavit that this is a matter of policy for the elected representatives of the people to decide and no direction in this regard can be issued by the Court. It is for the legislature to enact or not to enact a piece of legislation.

The ministry also added that since the 21st Law Commission's term ended, the 22nd Law Commission was constituted and that the subject matter will be placed before the 22nd Law Commission for consideration when the Chairman and members of the commission will be appointed.

The bench, however, allowed Upadhayay, the lead petitioner, to take the recourse available to him to seek the framing of such laws.

India home to elected leaders: Modi

YESHI SELI @ New Delhi

DESCRIBING India as the mother of democracy, Prime Minister Narendra Modi on Wednesday said the country has become the fastest-growing major economy despite many global challenges and this proves that the democracy can deliver.

In a virtual address to the Summit for Democracy, 2023, Modi also said every initiative of his government is powered by collective efforts of the citizens of India.

"India, despite the many global challenges, is the fastest growing major economy today. This itself is the best advertisement for the democracy and the world. This itself says that democracy can deliver," he said.

Modi was speaking at the second Summit for Democracy, co-hosted by US President Joe Biden, Costa Rica President Rodrigo Chaves Robles, Zambia President Hakainde Hichilema, the Netherlands Prime Minister Mark Rutte and South Korea President Yoon Suk Yeol.

"The idea of elected leaders was a common feature in ancient India, long before the rest of the world. In our ancient epic, Mahabharata, the first duty of citizens is described as choosing their own leader," said the PM. PM Modi also cited the examples of Vedas and said they too spoke about political power being exercised by broad-based consultative bodies. Modi spoke in session hosted by South Korean President Yoon Suk Yeol.

"There are also many historical references to Republic states in ancient India, where the rulers were not hereditary. India is, indeed, the mother of democracy," PM Modi added.

During the course of his speech PM Modi highlighted the narrative of the government saying that democracy is not just a structure, it is also a spirit.

"Democracy is based on the belief that the needs and aspirations of every human being are equally important. That is why, in India, our guiding philosophy is "Sabka Sath, Sabka Vikas", meaning "striving together for inclusive growth," he added. In the four minute speech, PM highlighted India's efforts at climate change which was brought about through lifestyle changes which included conserving water through distributed storage and clean cooking fuels.

Whether it is our effort to fight climate change through lifestyle changes, to conserve water through distributed storage or provide clean cooking fuel to everyone, every initiative is powered by collective efforts of citizens of India. During COVID-19, India's response was people-driven," the prime minister added.

He also through light on how India believed in reaching out to others as was visible during the outbreak of the pandemic.

"India's response to Covid-19 was people driven and they made it possible to administer over 2 billion doses of Made in India vaccines. Our "Vaccine Maitri" initiative shared millions of vaccines with the world which was guided by the democratic spirit of "Vasudhaiva Kutumbakam" - One Earth, One Family, One Future," he added.

Democracy is based on the belief that the needs and aspirations of every human being are equally important. That is why, in India, our guiding philosophy is 'Sabka Sath, Sabka Vikas'

Dhankhar stresses on primacy of Parliament in judicial appointments

RAJESH KUMAR THAKUR @ New Delhi

VICE President Jagdeep Dhankhar on Wednesday underscored the primacy of the legislature in law-making to reassert his position to keep the domains of Parliament and judiciary independent in the matters of judicial appointments.

"Primacy of mandate of the people, it is the will of the people that has to prevail, which is reflected through their representatives in a legitimized platform, and this according to me is inviolable," said Dhankhar. The Vice-President was speaking at the Dr Rajendra Prasad Memorial Lecture in Delhi.

The remarks by Dhankhar, who is also the chairman of the Rajya Sabha, come at a time when divergent opinions have been expressed over the appointment of judges to the higher judiciary. Many ministers have said that the collegium system of appointments to the higher judiciary needs to be reconsidered.

CJI DY Chandrachud has maintained that the object of the collegium system was to maintain independence and that could be done by insulating it from outside influences.

Dhankhar said: "I would make a reference to the National Judicial Appointments Commission. There was unanimity in Parliament, the Lok Sabha voted for it with no abstention, same with Rajya Sabha with one abstention. As constitutionally required, 16 state legislatures endorsed it. The President of the country invoking its constitutional authority under Article 111 of the Constitution signed it and it took the shape of constitutional prescription. I, as the Chairman Rajya Sabha wonder what happened to it, no one reverted to us. I am sure institutes like you, the intelligentsia of the country, would base your attention on this."

He also spoke on the frequent disruption in parliamentary proceedings. "It is imperative that legislators distinguish between their legislative obligations and party compulsions," he said. "Parliament is maintained by the public exchequer at a huge cost, and it doesn't function day after day, it is very painful," he said.

Over 7.5L opted to study abroad in '22; US, Canada, UK preferred picks

KAVITA BAJELI-DATT @ New Delhi

OVER 7.5 lakh students went abroad for higher studies last year, compared to 4,44,553 in 2021, with the most preferred destinations being the US, Canada and the UK.

The dip in Covid-19 cases and the lifting of travel restrictions played a major role. In 2020, only 2,59,655 students went abroad for studies, as per information shared by the Ministry of Education in Parliament.

Though in 2020 and 2021, travel came to a halt due to the pandemic, the US, Canada and the UK continued to draw students.

In 2022, 7,50,365 students went abroad, with the maximum – at 1,90,512 – heading to the US. In 2021, 1,25,115 students went to the US, compared to 62,415 in 2020.

Canada, the second most preferred destination, attracted 43,624 students in 2020 and 1,02,688 in 2021. The number went up to 1,85,955 in 2022.

The UK – which has always been a sought-after destination for Indian students – attracted 1,32,709 students in 2022, compared to 77,855 in 2021 and 44,901 in 2020.

Australia too continued to attract Indian students, with 59,044 students preferring its higher institutes in 2022. The number stood at 8,950 in 2021 and 33,629 in 2020.

Germany, Kyrgyzstan, Ukraine, Russia, Singapore, Philippines, Kazakhstan, France, Italy, Uzbekistan, Malaysia, Netherlands and New Zealand were the other countries that Indian students preferred for higher studies in 2022.

Speaking to this newspaper, University Grants Commission chairman Prof M. Jagadesh Kumar said that the number of students who wish to go abroad will continue to increase because India has a large number of students who wish to pursue a university education.

"However, students who wish to stay in India but study at a foreign university campus in India will benefit from the UGC regulations," he said, referring to the recent UGC draft notification that will facilitate the establishment of campuses of foreign higher education institutions in India.

SECURITY FOR RINPOCHE A CAUSE FOR CONCERN

"RINPOCHE was accorded legitimacy after he was declared a reincarnation of the ninth Khalkha Jetsun Dhampa on March 8 at the culmination of the exercise that the Dalai Lama undertook when he visited Ulaanbaatar in 2016," sources said.

"The Tulku may become the latest and yet another point of friction between India and China with the latter coming down aggressively to claim ownership of Tibetan Buddhism and reincarnations of Lamas. Khalkha Jetsun Dhampa is considered one of the most important spiritual leaders in Tibetan Buddhism," sources added.

"There are concerns regarding the Tulku's security after what happened to Gedhun Choekyi Nyima soon after his initiation as Panchen Lama in 1995," the sources said.

A month after his initiation, he was abducted by the Chinese authorities and till date, he remains the world's youngest political prisoner. He has been missing for 27 years. The Chinese authorities spared no time in announcing their own Panchen Lama six months after Choekyi's abduction, when they announced that they had found the "real" reincarnation of the Panchen Lama in Gyaltsen Norbu, a Tibetan boy and the son of two Communist Party members. Panchen Lama is second to the Dalai Lama in the Tibetan Buddhist hierarchy and plays a key role in recognising the next reincarnation of the Dalai Lama, who in turn, finds the reincarnated Panchen Lama. Mongolia being a landlocked country is heavily dependent upon China and may not want to antagonise its powerful southern neighbour. A week after the Dalai Lama's visit in 2016, China, besides issuing a warning to Mongolia to never again invite the Tibetan spiritual leader again, had also imposed fees on commodity imports from the country, charging additional transit costs on goods passing through a border crossing into China's northern region of Inner Mongolia.

The ninth Khalkha Jetsun Dhampa lived with his family in Darjeeling, Mysuru, Madhya Pradesh and Dharamshala. In 1991, he was officially enthroned as the Ninth Khalkha Jetsun Dhampa by the Dalai Lama. He died in 2012 at Ulaanbaatar.

NEW FOREST BILL RUNS INTO CONTROVERSY

Minister of Environment, Forest and Climate Change Bhupendra Yadav introduced the Forest Conservation Amendment Bill in Lok Sabha. The Bill intends to exempt lakhs of hectares of forest land from mandatory forest clearance laws. Environmentalists see the amendments as a dilution of strong forest laws, consequently degrading the existing forest. The introduced Bill, The Forest (Conservation) Amendment Bill, 2023, will amend the existing Forest (Conservation) Act, 1980 (FCA). After the introduction, the Bill sent to the government recommended the JPC instead of Parliamentary Standing Committee. The JPC is expected to submit its report in the Monsoon session, 2023. The Bill also emphasised on diversion of 'deemed forest' for non-forest use. The deemed forest is a kind of forest which is not notified as a forest, but in several governments' records, it considers as forest.

RAILWAYS TO INSTALL WIFI AT ALL STATIONS

The Indian Railways has decided to provide WiFi facility at all stations, barring small halts in the country. In a written reply to a question in Lok Sabha on Wednesday, Union Railway minister Ashwini Vaishnaw said that so far 6,108 railway stations out of more than 8,000, have been WiFi enabled. He said the provision of WiFi at stations depends upon the availability of infrastructure like optical fibre cable and other resources. Besides this, the minister also informed that Indian Railways is committed to make all stations and trains accessible for persons with disabilities (Divyangjans) as part of 'Sugamaya Bharat Mission". He added that the Indian Railways spent over ₹1766.33 crore till February 23 this year under 2022-23 FY for customer amnesties. In 2021-22, the Railways spent ₹1995.77 crore while during 2020-21, the Railways spent ₹2582.82 crore and ₹1903.10 crore in 2019-20 on customer amenities.

RAHUL VISITS CONG'S OFFICE IN PARLIAMENT

Congress leader Rahul Gandhi on Wednesday visited the party's office in the Parliament House complex and met some members there. Gandhi spent around 20 minutes at the party office and met Shiv Sena (UBT) MP Sanjay Raut and others. He later left along with his mother and Congress Parliamentary Party chairperson Sonia Gandhi for lunch. He did not talk to media. Congress leaders K C Venugopal and Adhir Ranjan Chowdury were also present at the party's parliamentary office. The Gandhi scion has been disqualified as a member of the Lok Sabha after his conviction and two-year sentence by a Surat court in a defamation case pertaining to his comments on Modi surname.

DELHI-BASED NGOs GET MOST FOREIGN FUNDS

The government on Wednesday informed the RS that the NGOs based in Delhi received the highest amount of foreign funds, followed by those based in Karnataka, Maharashtra and Tamil Nadu out of the over ₹55,600 crore contribution sent to India from abroad in the last three years. Union Minister of State for Home Nityanand Rai said as per the FCRA 2010, every NGO which receives foreign funds has to submit an annual return along with the income and expenditure statement, and balance sheet every year.

DATA OF 2.63L CO-OPS READY IN PHASE 1

Union minister for Cooperation Amit Shah on Wednesday informed the RS that the government has completed the first phase of mapping database of 2.63 lakh primary cooperative societies engaged in credit, dairy and fisheries. He said that the database is expected to be extended to cooperative societies of all other sectors by July this year. "The database would facilitate stakeholders in planning, formulation and implementation of appropriate policies for the cooperative sector", the minister said.

14 LAKH MALNOURISHED KIDS IN INDIA

India is now home to over 14 lakh severely malnourished children. Union minister for Women and Child Development Smriti Irani informed the RS, quoting data of government's 'Poshan Tracker' that over 14 lakh severely malnourished children are living in the country. She said out of approximately 5.6 crore children measured in the February 2023, the per cent of severely malnourished children is 2.6 % which run into around 14, 56,000 children of total number of them measured by the government.

OVER 11K SC/ST STUDENTS DROP OUT FROM CUs

Over 11,000 students from Other Backward Classes (OBCs), Scheduled Castes (SCs) and Scheduled Tribes (STs) dropped out from 45 Central Universities (CUs) in India from 2018 to 2013, the Rajya Sabha was informed on Wednesday. While over 4,000 students from these three categories dropped out from the IITs in the last five years, a total of 366 students belonging to SC, ST and OBC categories dropped out from IIMs in the same period, said MoS for Education Dr Subhas Sarkar in a written reply. Giving data, the minister said that 6,901 OBC students left CUs, 3,596 SC dropped out, and 3949 ST students didn't pursue their education. Similarly, in IITs, 2,544 OBC students dropped out, while 1,362 SC and 538 ST students didn't pursue their courses.

Cong seeks BJP's take on Savarkar writings on Shivaji

SUDHIR SURYAWANSHI @Mumbai

DESPITE a patch-up with Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena after the intervention of NCP chief Sharad Pawar, the Congress party on Wednesday asked the BJP to clear its stand about the objectionable writing of VD Savarkar about Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and Sambhaji Maharaj.

Congress spokesperson Pawan Khera, who addressed the press conference in Mumbai, sought to know if the BJP accepted what Savarkar has written about Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj and Sambhaji Maharaj.

As per historical references, VD Savarkar in his 'Six Glorious Epochs' – a book, in chapter titled Die for religion – martyr Chhatrapati' -- says after the demise of Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj, Sambhaji Maharaj became a drunkard and a womanizer so he was unfit to rule over Maratha kingdom. "Sambhaji was an unfit king to rule over the Maratha Empire. He had bad characteristics like his nature was short-tempered, he was a drunkard and a womanizer," the book stated. It further reads that Chhatrapati Shivaji Maharaj's son Sambhaji was brave but he was inefficent and was not liable to rule the big Maratha empire."

The Uddhav Thackeray-led Shiv Sena earlier warned Congress leader Rahul Gandhi not to insult their icon Savarkar. The trouble then erupted in the Maha Vikas Aghadi. NCP chief Sharad Pawar intervened and tried to douse the fire between Shiv Sena and Rahul Gandhi.

Khera clarified that there are differences of opinion over ideological issues in the MVA, but that does not mean they were divided. He said they respect each other's views and thoughts, "which is the beauty of democracy," said Khera.

Mamata calls BJP washing machine

Slams Centre's 'discriminatory attitude'; Her nephew comes out in support of Rahul Gandhi

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Kolkata

ON the first day of her two-day dharna on Red Road in Kolkata, West Bengal Chief Minister Mamata Banerjee on Wednesday came down heavily on the BJP-led Union government for its "discriminatory attitude" and said that she can stage demonstration near the Prime Minister residence, if needed.

"Many people are raising question on whether I can sit in a dharna or not. Of course, I can stage sit-in-demonstration for 1 crore times. If needed, I can sit near the house of the PM," said Mamata.

Terming the BJP as a "washing machine", Mamata said if anyone speaks against them (BJP), they send CBI and ED after them. "Since they (BJP) came to power, there is not a single example that central agencies are probing into allegations against their leaders," she said. Shouting slogan "BJP Washing Machine", Mamata put a black piece of cloth inside a washing machine kept on her dharna dais.

Hitting out at the BJP, Mamata, without naming the BJP, said that some people are trying to teach me about the Constitution. "I was MP for seven times and four times as an MLA. Previously, I also staged demonstration when the CBI arrived former Kolkata police commissioner Rajeev Kumar's residence to arrest him. As chief minister, Jaylalitha also staged sit-in. Also, the dharna is being organised under the banner of our party. The party, which I created, is more important than the government. I want to see what you (BJP) can do," said Mamata, who is the chairperson of TMC.

Meanwhile, Mamata's nephew Abhishek Banerjee also addressed a protest rally barely a few metres away from the CM's dharna venue on Red Fort slamming the BJP.

Abhishek, the national general secretary of the Trinamool Congress, stood beside Rahul Gandhi asking why PM Narendra Modi would not be disqualified as an MP as he had also insulted Mamata during his speeches in the high-octane 2021 Assembly polls in Bengal.

A political war of words broke out during the Assembly elections two years ago when Modi referred Mamata saying "didi o didi", which the TMC labelled as disrespectful comment targeting women in Bengal. Mamata, accompanied by senior TMC leaders like Firhad Hakim, Aroop Biswas, Subrata Bakshi and Sovandeb Chattopadhyay, reached the dharna venue in front of B R Ambedkar statue on Red Road against the Centre's discriminatory attitude, ranging from dues to misuse of central agencies.

Nitish says no comment on legal issues

RAMASHANKAR @Patna

BIHAR CM Nitish Kumar on Wednesday sought to distance himself from Rahul Gandhi's disqualification following a Surat court verdict, saying he did not speak on court matters.

Nitish told newspersons, "You know that I do not speak anything in court matters of any person. Even when a case is filed, I do not make any comment. People express their views, even my colleagues do, but I don't," he said.

On the Opposition unity, Nitish said that he was waiting for a response from the Congress in this regard. He said that he had held discussions with various opposition parties and many of the regional parties were in favour of united Opposition challenging the BJP in the 2024 elections.

Reacting to PM Narendra Modi's comment that all corrupt people were coming on the same platform, Nitish said that it was his habit to speak in such a manner and that everyone was aware of what was happening now.

Mamata takes charge of madrasa education

Chief minister Mamata Banerjee on Monday assumed the charge of the minority affairs and madarsa education department from cabinet colleage Mohammad Ghulam Rabbani. The change is said to be crucial as minorities form a third of the electorates in the state. The development came following TMC's defeat by the by-election in the Sagardighi Assembly segment, where minorities form 68 per cent of the total electorates, prompting the ruling party to find out if its minority vote bank eroded or not. The candidate of Left Front and Congress alliance bagged the seat.

Education dept forms NEP panel

The higher education department formed a six-member committee to explore the possibility and identify the higher education institutions where a four-year undergraduate programme can be introduced in compliance with the National Education Policy (NEP), 2020. A notice signed by a special secretary in the education department says a committee has been constituted under the chairmanship of Suranjan Das, interim vice-chancellor of Jadavpur University to explore the possibility. All universities provide honours degree after three years.

Jamini Roy's home turned into a museum

The house of artist Jamini Roy, which was acquired by Delhi Art Gallery (DAG) will be turned into a museum and cultural resource centre on the life, works and time of the artist. It was earlier announced that the house at Ballygunge Place will be turned into India's first private single-artist museum and resource centre on the life, works and time of Roy. DAG intends to renovate the three-storey house with the help of restoration architects and designers before turning it into a museum. "The acquisition of Roy's house is the single most important project undertaken by DAG in its three decades and is due to open next year," said an official of the agency.

Jignesh freed in Mehsana rally case of '17

DILIP SINGH KSHATRIYA
@Ahmedabad

GUJARAT Congress MLA Jignesh Mevani, former NCP member and current AAP Gujarat leader Reshma Patel and eight others were exonerated by the Mehsana district and sessions court on Wednesday in connection with a rally they organised out of Mehsana town in July 2017 without getting permission from the police.

According to sources, the court cleared Mevani and other protesters by stating that the right to peaceful assembly is protected by Article 19 of the Constitution and that the charges brought against the activists were baseless.

The verdict was delivered by Additional District Judge C M Pawar. Two appeals were filed at the district and session courts following the magisterial court's verdict convicting Mevani and nine others in May 2022. After the Verdict, Mevani tweeted, "Upholding our rights to deliberate, discuss & debate in a democracy and quoting the prosecutors case to be "baseless," a session court in Mehsana has acquitted us today in a frivolous case registered by Mehsana police in 2017."

In new video, Amritpal says he's fine, calls for Sarbat Khalsa on Baisakhi

HARPREET BAJWA @Chandigarh

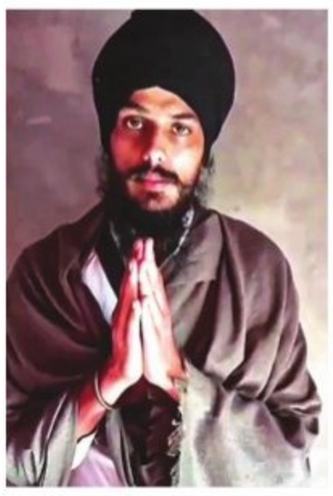
THE Punjab government on Wednesday informed the High Court that despite its "best efforts," radical preacher Amritpal Singh has not been arrested yet.

In a fresh turn to the hunt for the fugitive, the separatist sympathizer for the first time since his escape from the law enforcers released his video on social media in which he has given a call for Sarbat Khalsa (community gathering) on the occasion of Baisakhi (April 13) and appealed to Sikh organizations from home and abroad to gather and discuss issues related to the community.

Amritpal said he was fine and in high spirits and that he was not afraid of arrest. In the court, Justice NS Shekhawat was hearing a habeas corpus petition filed by advocate Imaan Singh Khara, seeking the release of Amritpal from the alleged police custody.

Khara is Amritpal's legal advisor and his outfit Waris Punjab De.

During the resumed hearing in the matter today, the state government through an affidavit from Deputy Inspector General of Police (Border Range) Narinder Bhargav told the court that Amritpal is absconding from the law.



Unable to detain Singh despite raids, HC told

"Raids have been conducted to apprehend and detain Amritpal Singh. Multiple teams headed by senior police officers, including the senior superintendent of police, have raided various suspected hideouts. But despite best efforts on the part of the police, he has not been arrested/detained so far," said an affidavit of the Punjab government filed in Punjab & Haryana High Court. It said a 'hue and cry' notice on giving information about Amritpal's whereabouts was also issued by the police.

"Raids have been conducted to apprehend and detain Amritpal Singh. Multiple teams headed by senior police officers, including the senior superintendent of police, have raided various suspected hideouts. But despite best efforts on the part of the police, he has not been arrested/detained so far," said the affidavit.

It said a "hue and cry" notice on giving information about Amritpal's whereabouts was also issued by the senior superintendent of police, Amritsar Rural, on March 28. The notice has been shared with commissioners of police and senior superintendents of police in the country, it said, adding the notice has been circulated in public places.

Amritpal in a video on social media said: "Today I'm speaking to the Sikh community for the first time since March 18. I want to first talk about what happened on that day. If the government wanted to only arrest me, they could have said so and I would have surrendered. But they tried to trap me by deploying police personnel. My initial thought was that they wanted to prevent me from entering Malwa to prevent us from beginning the Khalsa Vahir. So I wanted to reach Malwa somehow," he says.

Rajasthan HC acquits all 4 accused in 2008 Jaipur serial blasts case

RAJESH ASNANI @Jaipur

The Rajasthan High Court on Wednesday acquitted four men who had been sentenced to death by a special court in 2019 in the case involving serial bomb blasts which rocked Jaipur on May 13, 2008, killing 71 and injuring 185 people.

Sarvar Azmi, Saifur Rahman, Mohammad Saif and Salman had presented 28 appeals in the HC, including an appeal to abolish the death sentence. The hearing went on for 48 days. The state government has announced its intention to appeal against the decision in the Supreme Court. Additional Advocate General (AAG) Rajesh Maharshi said that preparations are being made for the same. The court has also ordered a probe against the police while questioning the Anti-Terrorism Squad (ATS) for failing to provide credible evidence in the case.

While delivering the verdict, the division bench consisting of Justices Pankaj Bhandari and Sameer Jain said that the investigating officer (IO) did not have legal knowledge. Therefore, instructions have been given to the DGP to take action against IO as well. The court has also asked the Chief Secretary to conduct an inquiry against the concerned police officials.

The serial bomb blasts took place on May 13, 2008 in Jaipur and the capital of Rajasthan was shaken by eight serial blasts. The blasts claimed 71 lives and left about 185 people injured.

Originally, there were five accused in the case, but one of them, Shahbaz Hussain was acquitted in 2019. Reacting to the court verdict, Syed Sadat Ali, the counsel for the accused, said that the High Court has termed the entire theory of the ATS wrong, which is why the accused had been acquitted.

ED conducts searches on Raipur mayor, IAS officer, liquor barons

EJAZ KAISER @ Raipur

THE Enforcement Directorate carried out searches in over two dozen locations, raiding premises linked to an IAS officer, liquor barons and hoteliers in three districts of Chhattisgarh on Wednesday.

After the ED's probe into the the money laundering case in the coal levy scam, the federal agency raided the residential premises of Raipur mayor Aijaz Dhebar, IAS officer Anil Tuteja, liquor businessmen Amolak Singh Bhatia, Surjit Singh Bhatia, Pappu Bansal and the hoteliers Anwar Dhebar among others. Unconfirmed reports said that the team also reached the premises owned by special secretary (excise department) A P Tripathi and the excise ADO Janardhan Kaurav.

The Congress workers protested against the raids at the Mayor's bungalow while the ED searches were underway.

According to the sources, fresh raids were conducted following the new findings and the names that emerged during the recent investigation.

Nevertheless, this apparently rattled the Congress who alleged that such raids are part of BJP's political conspiracy as it failed to counter the ruling party in the state.

The Congress leaders stated that people are becoming aware that the raids by the Income Tax department, CBI and ED are intended only for political gain.

"Why do central agencies turn a blind eye to BJP-ruled states and never take any action there? The ED should remain unbiased but their actions are taken at the behest of the BJP leaders", asserted Bhupesh Baghel, chief minister responding to the raids.

The opposition BJP rebuffed the allegations saying that the ED has initiated actions against the corrupt officials, leaders and businessmen.

Last year, ED had claimed to have traced a cartel, involving senior bureaucrats, businessmen, politicians for an alleged criminal conspiracy.

Why has no case been filed against Shivraj: Baghel

CM Baghel called his Madhya Pradesh counterpart Shivraj Singh Chouhan's statement ridiculous when the latter said, "While the country celebrates Amrit Kaal, there is Rahu Kaal (bad or inauspicious time) in the Congress." Chouhan said the nation is being run by the Constitution but Rahul Gandhi has become Rahu for the Congress. Baghel countered him, asking why there shouldn't be an FIR on such a statement. "The Amrit Kaal symbolises celebration of 75 years of independence but the democracy stands threatened. All central agencies are being misused (by BJP-led centre) to crush the opposition," said the Chhattisgarh CM.

Namibian Cheetah gives birth to 4 cubs at Kuno

ANURAAG SINGH @ Bhopal

JUST two days after the news of the death of four-year-old female Cheetah Sasha, reportedly due to renal failure, saddened animal lovers, there was good news from Kuno National Park (KNP) in Madhya Pradesh's Sheopur district on Wednesday.

In what could be termed as the first success story of India's Cheetah project, post the intercontinental translocation of 20 Cheetahs from two African nations at the KNP, three-year-old Siyaya, one of the four surviving female Cheetahs, has given birth to four cubs at a big enclosure of the park.

The Cheetah was officially declared extinct from India in 1952 due to rampant poaching.

Now the total count of Cheetahs at KNP (if the newly born cubs are taken into account) has risen to 23.

Both Sasha and Siyaya were among the eight fully-vaccinated and satellite-collared Cheetahs (five females and three males) which were flown from Namibia to the KNP on Prime Minister Narendra Modi's 72nd birthday on September 17, 2022 and released subsequently into the quarantine bomas by the PM himself.

"Though all the 19 surviving Cheetahs, including the seven Namibian Cheetahs are under 24x7 watch, the four newly-born cubs were spotted in Siyaya's big 220 hectare enclosure at around 11 am on Wednesday. A close examination of the cubs suggests that they were delivered by Siyaya around 3-4 days back. All the four cubs are healthy along with their mother. The mother and newborn quartet are under continuous watch," DFO, KNP, PK Verma told this newspaper.

"However, just like other cat families, including tiger and leopards, it will take another two-three months to determine the sex of the four newborn cubs," Verma added.

Sharing pictures and video of the newborn Cheetah cubs, Union Minister of Environment, Forest and Climate Change Bhupender Yadav tweeted about the historic development of the birth of Cheetah cubs on Indian soil, over seven decades after the fastest moving animal on earth was declared extinct.

Tagging PM Modi in his tweets, Yadav wrote, "Congratulations India. A momentous event in our wildlife conservation history during Amrit Kaal! I am delighted to share that four cubs have been born to one of the Cheetahs trans-located to India on September 17, 2022, under the PM's visionary leadership. I congratulate the entire team of Project Cheetah for their relentless efforts and for efforts in correcting an ecological wrong done in the past."

PM Narendra Modi retweeted Yadav's tweet with the quote, "Wonderful news." Lauding PM Narendra Modi for bringing Cheetahs to India, MP CM Shivraj Singh Chouhan said, "Residents of Madhya Pradesh are happy and overjoyed with the arrival of four new cubs in the Cheetah family in Kuno National Park. Just a day back, we were sad over Sasha's death due to renal infection. But Siyaya has now rendered us the moment to rejoice."

KREMLIN STOPS SHARING MISSILE TEST INFO WITH US

Comes as US-led Western countries ramp up military aid to Ukraine

MOSCOW

A senior Russian diplomat said Wednesday that Moscow will no longer inform the US about its missile tests, an announcement that came as the Russian military deployed mobile launchers in Siberia in a show of the country's massive nuclear capability amid the fighting in Ukraine.

Russian Deputy Foreign Minister Sergei Ryabkov said in remarks carried by Russian news agencies that Moscow has halted all information exchanges with Washington after previously suspending its participation in the last remaining nuclear arms pact with the US. Along with the data about the current state of the countries' nuclear forces, the parties also have exchanged advance warnings about test launches.

Such notices have been an essential element of strategic stability for decades, allowing Russia and the United States to correctly interpret each other's moves and make sure that neither country mistakes a test launch for a missile attack. The termination of missile test warnings appears to mark yet another attempt by Moscow to discourage the West from ramping up its support for Ukraine by pointing out at Russia's massive nuclear arsenals. It comes days after Russian President Vladimir Putin announced the deployment of tactical nuclear weapons to Moscow's ally Belarus.

Last month, Putin suspended the New START treaty, charging that Russia can't accept US inspections of its nuclear sites under the agreement at a time when Washington and its NATO allies have openly declared Russia's defeat in Ukraine as their goal.

Moscow emphasised that it wasn't withdrawing from the pact altogether and would continue to respect the caps on nuclear weapons the treaty set.

The Russian Foreign Ministry initially said Moscow would keep notifying the US about planned test launches of its ballistic missiles, but Ryabkov's statement reflected an abrupt change of course.

"There will be no notifications at all," Ryabkov said in remarks carried by Russian news agencies when asked if Moscow would also stop issuing notices about planned missile tests.

Ryabkov's announcement followed American officials' statement that Moscow and Washington have stopped sharing biannual nuclear weapons data that were envisaged by the New START treaty. AP

> All notifications, all kinds of notifications, all activities under the treaty. will be suspended and will not be conducted regardless of what position the US may take

Bill to curtail suo motu powers of chief justice clears Pakistan Assembly

ISLAMABAD

PAKISTAN'S National Assembly on Wednesday adopted a bill aimed at curtailing the discretionary powers of the chief justice, a day after PM Shehbaz Sharif said that "history would not forgive us" if parliament did not enact laws to curtail the powers of the country's top judge. "The National Assembly passes The Supreme Court (Practice and Procedure) Bill, 2023," the lower house announced in a tweet.

The development comes two days after two Supreme Court judges questioned the suo motu powers of the country's top judge after Chief Justice Umar Ata Bandial took suo motu notice on February 22 about elections to be held in Punjab and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa provinces.

In January, Tehreek-e-Insaf leader Imran Khan dissolved provincial assemblies in the provinces of Punjab and Khyber Pakhtunkhwa where his party holds a majority. Imran's aim was to force the Sharif government to hold general elections since Pakistan has historically held the provincial and national elections together.

However, the Sharif government refused to provide the necessary funds and polling staff citing financial constraints. It was then that Chief Justice Umar Ata Bandial took suo motu notice of the election commission delaying elections in the two provinces. Pakistan Constitution stipulates that an election must be held within 90 days of the dissolution of a assembly.

Imran lashed out at the federal government for trying to clip the discretionary powers of the country's chief justice, asserting that the move was aimed at putting more pressure on the judiciary. Agencies

Sebi tightens norms for listed cos, eases MF entry

Asks top listed cos to confirm or deny rumours that impact share price

SACHIN KUMAR @Mumbai

AMID growing uproar over its silence on allegation of stock manipulation by the Adani Group, capital market regulator Securities and Exchange Board of India (Sebi) on Wednesday announced a slew of corporate governance related and pro-investor measures.

Sebi has asked top listed companies on stock exchanges to confirm or deny market rumours that impact share prices, in a bid to bring more transparency and ensure timely disclosure of material events. The requirement will kick in from October 1, 2023, for top 100 firms by market capitalisation, and from April 1, 2024, for the top 250. It has prescribed strict timelines for disclosures of material events/ information for which decision has been taken in the meeting of board of directors (within 30 minutes) and which are emanating from within the listed entity (within 12 hours). The regulator has decided to end the practice of individuals having permanent seats at boards of listed firms.

These decisions were by Sebi in its board meeting held on Wednesday.

Addressing the media after the board meeting, Sebi Chairperson Madhabi Puri Buch said the regulator has decided to set up independent, government - sponsored backstop fund for corporate debt market. The ₹33,000 crore Corporate Debt Market Development Fund (CDMF) will be set up to bail out debt funds in case of crisis. "If a single fund house faces an illiquidity issue, this corpus will not be available to it. It is only when the issue is spread across market that we will press the button that will activate this corpus," said Buch.

The backstop facility will be up and running in 3-6 months, she said. Aiming to safeguarding investors' money from misuse by stock brokers, Sebi will put in place a framework for the Application Supported by Blocked Amount (ASBA) facility for investors in secondary market trading, similar to the existing system for IPO investors. "Under the proposed framework, stock brokers will be allowed to either directly settle brokerage with the UPI clients or opt for Clearing Corporation's facility to deduct the standard rate of brokerage from the UPI block of clients. The framework would be implemented in a phased manner to facilitate a smooth transition in the market," she said.

Sebi has approved a regulatory framework to allow private equity funds to become sponsors of mutual funds, a move that will help deepen mutual fund industry. On Adani probe, she said she would not comment on it as the matter is sub-judice.

KEY CHANGES

- Creation of ₹33,000 crore backstop fund for corporate debt market
- Top 100 listed firms must clarify market rumours from October 1
- Nod to mutual funds for launching multiple ESG-based schemes

ASBA-LIKE FACILITY FOR SECONDARY MARKETS WILL BE OPTIONAL FOR BROKERS AND INVESTORS

- Practice of having permanent board members for listed companies eliminated
- PE funds allowed as sponsors of MF schemes
- Allows self-sponsored asset management companies

No impact of interchange fee on UPI users: NPCI

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Mumbai

THERE will be no impact on customers doing transactions via Unified Payments Interface (UPI) due to the interchange fee of up to 1.1% being levied on pre-paid wallets, the National Payments Corporation of India (NPCI) clarified on Wednesday.

The NPCI has recommended an interchange fee of up to 1.1% on UPI transactions of over ₹2,000 made through Pre-paid payment instruments or PPI wallets. "The interchange charges introduced are only applicable for PPI merchant transactions and there is no charge to customers and it is further clarified that there are no charges for the bank account to bank account based UPI payments," said NPCI in a statement on Wednesday. "With this addition to UPI, the customers will have the choice of using any bank accounts, RuPay Credit card and prepaid wallets on UPI enabled apps," it added. An interchange fee is a fee that is charged by one bank to another bank for processing a transaction.

The most preferred method of UPI transactions is linking bank account in any UPI enabled app for making payments which contributes over 99.9% of UPI transactions.

"These bank account-to-account transactions continue to remain free for customers and merchants," said NPCI. The decision to levy fee will come into effect from April 1 and the NPCI, governing body of the UPI payment system, will review the fee on or before September 30, 2023, said the circular.

"Based on February 2023 annualised wallet payment transactions of ₹2 lakh crore, we estimate wallet loading charges could be over ₹100 crore across all wallet issuers, (assuming 30 percent of wallet transactions are eligible given transaction-size rule and an estimated 60 percent share of UPI in wallet-loading), and will be paid to banks," Citi Research said in a note.

Deposit ₹1,337 crore fine in 30 days: NCLAT to Google

RAKESH KUMAR @New Delhi

IN a major setback for Google, the National Company Law Appellate Tribunal (NCLAT) on Wednesday upheld the CCI's (Competition Commission of India) order imposing a fine of ₹1,337.76 crore for abusing the dominant position of its Android system in India.

The US tech giant will have to pay the fine in next 30 days. The appellate tribunal found that the investigation conducted by the CCI into Google's conduct was not in violation of principles of natural justice.

Appearing on behalf Google Advocate Arun Kathpalia argued that CCI's order suffers from confirmation bias and is based on a similar order of the European Commission (EC) in 2018. Additional Solicitor General (ASG) N Venkataraman presented the CCI's case before the NCLAT, stating that Google abused its dominant position in the Android Operating System

(OS) market to indulge in unfair trade practices by restricting entry of other applications in its Play Store.

In October 2022, the competition watchdog had imposed a fine of ₹1,337.76 crore on Google for anti-competitive practices in relation to Android mobile devices. Google approached the NCLAT on January 6, which refused to stay the CCI's order and directed it to deposit 10% of the penalty amount. Then it filed a plea in the Supreme Court to get stay on CCI's order. However, the NCLAT bench comprising Chairperson Justice Ashok Bhushan and Member Alok Shrivastava also made some modifications to the CCI order, and gave partial relief to Google. It set aside four of the CCI directives in the case related to abuse of its dominant position in Android, which includes pre-installation of entire Google Mobile Services (GMS) on Android phones amount to unfair use. Also, the company will not now need to allow hosting of third-party app stores inside Play Store.

The tribunal directed the company not to deny access to its play services Application Programming Interface (APIs) to disdvantage original equipment manufacturers (OEMs), app developers and its existing or potential competitors. Also it directed the firm not to restrict uninstalling of its pre-installed apps by the users. Google have to allow the developers of app stores to distribute their app stores through Google Play Store.

Lifelong acquires car repair start-up GoMechanic

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

TROUBLED car service and repair start-up GoMechanic has been acquired by Lifelong Group-led consortium. This announcement comes two months after the start-up's co-founder Amit Bhasin admitted to financial reporting errors.

According to sources, investors - Tiger Global Management, Chiratae Ventures, Orios Venture Partners, among others- have written off their investments. Earlier, it was said that CarTrade was in advanced stage of discussion to buy GoMechanic, but it pulled out later. This acquisition will provide some relief to the start-up that has been facing many challenges in the past two months.

Sources said Lifelong Group will be focusing on to build GoMechanic's business. Stride Ventures has led the deal conversations. Incorporated in 1985, auto components maker Lifelong Group will be a majority shareholder under Servizzy consortium in GoMechanic business. The group has been looking to expand its operations in the after-sales segment.

Founded in 2016 by Kushal Karwa, Amit Bhasin, Rishabh Karwa and Nitin Rana, GoMechanic is a network of technology-enabled car service centres. The company raised $62 million in funding so far and its latest funding round was in June 2021. As of July 31, 2022, the start-up had employed 1,230 people. The start-up was valued at $283 million in November 2021.

Mkt gains, volatility likely to stay until banking system recovers fully

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

DOMESTIC equity market closed a volatile session on the March derivatives series expiry day with decent gains.

BSE Sensex jumped 346 points to close at 57,960 on Wednesday while broader NSE Nifty moved 129 points to settle at 17,081. After the flat start, the benchmarks oscillated in a narrow range. However, a sharp surge during the closing hour brought cheers to the investors. Most sectors participated in the recovery wherein metals, realty and auto gained the maximum.

"The domestic market is being impelled to stay non-sticky in both directions by the continuous instability in the international market. The favourable ending was supported by a significant upswing in both the US and European markets," said Vinod Nair, head of research at Geojit Financial Services. Nair added that this volatility is expected to continue until the global banking system gets fully recovered from the turmoil, along with a confirmation of the Fed's decision to pause rate hikes. Market experts also said that this single day rally does not mean that the bearish sentiments have changed.

Ajit Mishra, VP - Technical Research, Religare Broking, cautioned that participants shouldn't read much into a single-day rebound and wait for a decisively close above 17,200 in Nifty for further recovery.

2 Adani entities face contagion risks: Fitch

NEW DELHI: Fitch Ratings has, in a report, said Adani Transmission (ATL) and Adani Ports and Special Economic Zone (APSEZ) are vulnerable to "higher contagion risks" due to governance weakness at sponsor level and other Adani group entities. "Governance weaknesses at the sponsor level and other Adani Group entities expose even the group's stable cash-generative corporate-like issuers." ENS

Edtech major upGrad raises ₹300 cr via rights issue

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ Bengaluru

EDTECH company upGrad on Wednesday said it raised ₹300 crore through rights issue. In this internal round, Temasek contributed ₹81 crore and co-founder and Chairperson of upGrad Ronnie Screwvala contributed ₹212 crore, and the rest came from other minority stakeholders, the edtech firm said.

An upGrad spokesperson said, "The company is focused on its organic and in-organic growth across verticals of formal education via degree, diploma and doctorate courses in partnership with the best universities in India and globally." upGrad operates out of 31 offices located in India, the US, the UK, Middle-East, Singapore and Vietnam. Started in 2015, it till date has over 7 million learners across 100 countries. In FY22, its loss widened to ₹ 626.6 crore from ₹211.1 crore in the previous year. As per Tracxn, the company's revenue rose 2x in FY22 at ₹692.2 crore from ₹327.7 crore in the previous fiscal. upGrad acquired the unicorn status in 2021. The edtech firm in August last year raised $210 million from ETS Global, Kaizen Management Advisors and Bodhi Tree, among others.

Honda Motorcycle to launch two EVs in FY24; to make 10L units by '30

ARSHAD KHAN @ New Delhi

HONDA MOTORCYCLE AND SCOOTER INDIA (HMSI) on Wednesday said its new factory at Narasapura (Karnataka) will produce 10 lakh electric vehicles (EV) by 2030, with the factory exclusively dedicated to EVs only. Unveiling its EV road map in India, HMSI also said it will launch two electric two-wheelers here under 'Platform E' here in the financial year 2023-24.

The first EV will be a mid-range two-wheeler while the second model will be a product equipped with 'Honda Mobile Power Pack e' swappable batteries.

The Japanese automaker is one of the last major two-wheeler original equipment manufacturers (OEMs) in India which is yet to launch a battery-powered vehicle. HMSI's rival Hero MotoCorp had launched its first EV a few months back while Bajaj Auto and TVS were early entrants. "With our EV road map, now in the execution phase, we are taking substantial steps towards creating exclusive infrastructure for manufacturing diverse range of captivating electric vehicles," said Atsushi Ogata (Pic), managing director, President & CEO of HMSI.

HMSI plans to bring in a dedicated platform on which multiple EV models with fixed and swappable batteries would be introduced. They would also be investing in the development of EV technologies, charging infrastructure and aftersales services.

On new product launches in the ICE segment, Ogata said the company aims to introduce a 160 cc bike and a 125 cc scooter in the next three months. Besides, the company may launch a new 350 cc bike around the festive season this year. HMSI sold over 40 lakh two-wheelers in the domestic market this fiscal and expects low double digit growth in FY24.

India will start exporting coal from FY26: Minister

RAKESH KUMAR @ New Delhi

COAL minister Prahlad Joshi on Wednesday said India will start exporting coal from FY26.

The minister, speaking at the launch of 7th round of commercial coal mine auction, retorted that the fossil fuel is going to remain a main source of energy for next 40-50 years. "This year, we won't need to import as India's coal production this fiscal is up by 14% to 880 MT and offtake is likely to touch 900 million tonne," he said. He further added as the production grew substantially after joining of private players, India will be in position to export coal. Joshi said production from captive/commercial mines has crossed 100 million tonne for the first time.

"Except for coking coal, we will stop the (import of) thermal coal," he added. India, along with China, is the world's largest coal producer, consumer and importer. This comes after India faced a major coal crisis, which led to power outages in many states in past two year. In 2021, coal stocks at power plants touched lowest to 7.23 million tonnes (mt). In May 2022, in peak summer, several states complained of coal shortage for power plants.

Sector regulator approves unified tariff for natural gas

ENS ECONOMIC BUREAU @ New Delhi

IN a move that could benefit the gas consumers in the country, the Petroleum and Natural Gas Regulatory Board (PNGRB) on Wednesday amended the regulation pertaining to unified tariff for natural gas.

The regulatory body has notified a levelised unified tariff of ₹73.93/MMBTU. It has also created three tariff zones for unified tariff, where the first zone is up to a distance of 300 kms from gas source, second zone is 300–1,200 kms and third zone is beyond 1200 kms. The new tariffs will be effective from April 1, 2023. "The reform will specially benefit the consumers located in the far-flung areas where currently the additive tariff is applicable and facilitate development of gas markets and vision of government to increase the gas utilisation in the country," said the regulatory body in a press note.

Currently, the tariff is levied in proportion to the distance transported, which means longer the distance, the higher is the charge. In simple terms, currently consumers from far-flung areas or away from the coast are paying higher tariff.

Pistorius up for parole in girlfriend's murder

South African Paralympic champion Oscar Pistorius might be released from prison this week, a decade after he killed his girlfriend in a crime that gripped the world. A parole board is to decide whether Pistorius should be let out early, after a hearing in Pretoria on Friday. He shot Reeva Steenkamp, a model, in the early hours of Valentine's Day in 2013.

TEAM WATCH

With the Indian Premier League around the corner, here's a look at the last three teams ahead of the 16th edition...

SUNRISERS HYDERABAD

STRENGTHS

A bonafide T20 batting line-up with no anchor. In adding Mayank Agarwal at the top, they have taken the pressure off the star-studded middle-order that will follow — Rahul Tripathi, Harry Brook, Aiden Markram, & Heinrich Klaasen. Not to mention the luxury of having Marco Jansen & Washington Sundar who can be used as floaters.

CAPTAIN Aiden Markram

COACH Brian Lara

2022: Eighth

DRAWBACKS

The spin attack. While Washington is a starter, SRH has several options for the other spinner, but not necessarily a match-winner as they had in Rashid Khan for years. They have an overseas option in Adil Rashid, but it could be likely that Samarth Vyas, Vivrant Sharma, Mayank Markande have a better chance to start given their batting and all-round combinations.

OPPORTUNITIES: Brook has been the talk of the town for a year. If his T20 strike rate of 148.38 isn't enough, that he hits at 184.61 in overs 7-16 and 203.58 in overs 17-20 could make all the difference. If he is able to replicate the success he has had elsewhere, SRH could have a season to remember

DELHI CAPITALS

STRENGTHS

A smart captain, a smarter coach with strong technical and tactical nous. Their batting line-up is capable of taking conditions out of the equations, but whether they will be able to shift through gears has to be seen. To have the likes of Anrich Nortje and Mustafizur Rahman covers up the inexperience they have in the Indian pace options.

CAPTAIN David Warner

COACH Ricky Ponting

2022: Fifth

DRAWBACKS

The absence of Rishabh Pant. While the southpaw might not have had the best of seasons, he was the backbone of the middle-order. In his absence, their batting looks a bit one dimensional. They do have Rilee Rossouw but it's hard to see him start in first XI, with Warner and Mitchell Marsh playing.

OPPORTUNITIES: If there is one name, one player, who is pressing for a chance across formats in the Indian side, it is Axar Patel. He has been delivering consistently for years now in the IPL. This year, however, could be the breakout season where he could effectively push for the role of the first-choice all-rounder.

MUMBAI INDIANS

STRENGTHS

All-rounders. Cameron Green and Dewald Brevis are going to form the core of this team in coming years. That Jofra Archer is back and available for the season becomes a huge plus to the bowling attack, which seems a bit depleted especially in the absence of Jasprit Bumrah. They also have a strong Indian batting to compliment the balance of the side.

CAPTAIN Rohit Sharma

COACH Mark Boucher

2022: Tenth

DRAWBACKS

Sometimes they have had the problem of plenty and struggled to get the combinations right, and will be interesting to see how they go about this time. The lack of experienced Indian pacers and spinners is something they will have to deal with. Should not be surprised if Sharma sits out for a few games keeping an eye on the workload.

OPPORTUNITIES: Ishan Kishan and Suryakumar Yadav. The former has warmed the bench and the latter has had a bad series. The Indian duo have a point to prove and will be keen on stepping up for the team in the IPL. How flexible they are with the batting will also be key in a batting line-up where Tim David is a sure starter.

NOTE: LSG, RCB, RR and PBKS were featured on Tuesday followed by CSK, KKR and GT on Wednesday.

HYDERABAD LOOK TO FLY HIGH

A dynamic side, with bonafide T20 batters, that has all the ingredients to make an impact this year

GOMESH S @ Chennai

FOR five years since 2016 — the season where David Warner led them to their maiden Indian Premier League title — Sunrisers Hyderabad were one of the most consistent teams in the tournament. The last couple of seasons, however, haven't been one to remember. A last-place finish followed by an eighth-place finish in 2022 meant they were in for an overhaul.

In the 2023 IPL auction, they did exactly that, going all out to spend ₹35.7 crore, ₹15.7 crore more than any other team, putting together a dynamic T20 side. What more, they have made Aiden Markram, who led Sunrisers Eastern Cape team to title in the inaugural SA20 league, captain. While they might miss Markram, who has South Africa commitments, in their opening game against Rajasthan Royals on Sunday, it is safe to say that SRH still have one of the strongest teams, at least on paper, this season.

For starters, from relying heavily on top-order for years, SRH went to depending on their middle-order in 2022. Their top three run-scorers were middle-order (No 3 to 5) bats, as they struggled to fit in a batter like Kane Williamson at the top. This time, however, they have Mayank Agarwal at the top, Harry Brook and Heinrich Klaasen in the middle to give company to Markram, Rahul Tripathi and Abhishek Sharma. There is no room for an anchor in this top six, in fact, if required they could ask Sharma to play that role, with explosive hitting at the other end.

Agarwal is one of the few batters who have constantly spoken about impact rather than run accumulation. His IPL strike rate of 142.41 in the last three years is a testament to that. But that is not all of it. His prolific spin-hitting aside, Agarwal's run-scoring rate post-powerplay is what makes him stand out. In fact, that is what makes this SRH batting stand out. Agarwal's middle-over IPL SR is 140.93 followed by Tripathi (136.15), and Markram (164.28) means there are no easy overs against this batting. Add Brook (184.61 middle-over T20 SR) and Klaasen (161.90) to this mix, they become dangerous against most T20 oppositions.

MIDDLE-OVERS (7-16) STRIKE RATE IN IPL

Name	Strike rate
Mayank Agarwal	140.93
Rahul Tripathi	136.15
Aiden Markram	164.28
Harry Brook*	184.61
Heinrich Klaasen*	161.90

* Brook and Klaasen's record is for all T20s and not just IPL

There is no dearth of all-round options either with Washington Sundar and Marco Jansen slotting themselves at No. 7 and 8. However, Washington is such an option that they could also move him up and down the order if need be based on match-ups. The TN all-rounder has shown what he is capable of with the bat. And the lanky left-armer from South Africa could prove to be the X-factor, especially with the way SRH has formed their bowling attack. An express pace option in Umran Malik, experienced campaigners in Bhuvneshwar Kumar and T Natarajan make it a complete pace attack on paper, but they are susceptible to bad days. Malik took 22 wickets last year but operated at 9.03 runs per over, Natarajan had 18 with an economy of 9.44. Kumar, their least expensive bowler (7.34), took 12 wickets. That their home ground, Rajiv Gandhi International Stadium, Uppal, Hyderabad, is not what it used to be — a middling 140-150 used to be enough in the past — and has seen a lot of high-scoring games means this season could be no different for their bowlers.

Perhaps, the one supposed weak link is their second spin option. They have Adil Rashid, but it might come down as a call between him and Jansen as the fourth overseas player, and some Indian options in Samarth Vyas and Mayank Markande or even the new recruit from Jammu and Kashmir Vivrant Singh.

More than anything else, it might all come down to data and the percentage options they use and how they use it. It is something that brought the franchise success in the SA20 league. Roelof van der Merwe, the Dutch-South African cricketer who played for the Eastern Cape, literally said they "Moneyballed" it in a chat with IOL Sport, referring to the Hollywood movie based on Oakland Athletics baseball team's statistics based approach to form a competitive team. Here in the IPL, they have spent big money to do the same, and they would have to have a really bad tournament to not finish in the top four.

Arsene Wenger | AP

Ferguson and Wenger make it to PL Hall of Fame

AFP @ London

FORMER Manchester United manager Alex Ferguson and ex-Arsenal boss Arsene Wenger on Wednesday became the first managers to be inducted into the Premier League Hall of Fame.

The two men locked horns during a period of intense rivalry starting in the 1990s, winning 16 English top-flight titles between them.

Ferguson, 81, is the most successful manager in Premier League history, guiding Manchester United to 13 titles, while Wenger won the competition three times with Arsenal, including going unbeaten in the 2003/04 season.

"It's an honour when you receive recognition like this," said Ferguson, who retired in 2013 after winning his 13th title.

"However, it's not just about me as a person. It's about the job at Manchester United and the bond we had over many years, so I'm also proud for the club, the staff and my players."

Wenger arrived at Arsenal in 1996 as one of the first foreign managers in the Premier League, staying at the club until 2018. "To share this with Sir Alex is a great honour for me," said the 73-year-old Wenger, who is currently FIFA's football development chief.

If Rohit wants rest, no problem: MI head coach

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

JUST after the third and final ODI against Australia in Chennai, India skipper Rohit Sharma had said that the players can always opt out of a couple of games if they feel it is too much workload for them during the Indian Premier League before stating that he doubts it will happen.

"We've given some indications or borderline kind of things but at the end of the day, it's up to the franchise and most importantly, it's the players. They're all adults. So, they have to look after their body and if they feel that it's getting a little too much, they can always talk about it and have a break in one or two games. I doubt that will happen," he had said.

Days ahead of the season, the Mumbai Indians skipper was asked the same question again in a press conference in Mumbai on Wednesday. While admitting that he is willing to take a back seat and rest for a few games, Sharma said that he would prefer the decision to be taken by head coach Marck Boucher.

"In regards to resting Rohit, he is the captain. Hopefully, he gets into some sort of form and hopefully does not want to rest, but we will adapt to whatever the situation is," said the former South African wicketkeeper, before adding, " 'If I can get the best out him as a captain and a player, it will be great and that means that if he wants to rest for one or two games then I will do that. No problem."

It will be interesting to see if Sharma sets the precedent for his Indian teammates during the season by resting for a few games to manage his workload. And should Sharma opts out, Suryakumar Yadav is all set to lead the franchise in those games.

Boxers, coaches to protest at IOC headquarters

EXPRESS NEWS SERVICE @ Chennai

THE IBA Women's World Championships was recently conducted with great fanfare in New Delhi. Over 300 pugilists from around the world were part of it as India topped the table with four gold medals.

However, the future of the sport is still uncertain with the International Boxing Association (IBA), not being recognised by the International Olympic Committee (IOC). In fact, USA and Ireland were among several nations who had boycotted the just-concluded championships due to issues surrounding the IBA. The world body has been under suspension since 2019 due to governance issues and concerns surrounding refereeing and judging. The IBA underwent series of reforms but the IOC officials upheld their ban late last year seeking a 'drastic change of culture'.

The world body, on their part, have been adamant on clearing their name and regaining recognition. On Wednesday, the IBA said that the boxing fraternity will be gathering in Lausanne, where IOC's headquarters is located, to stage a protest. "The IBA has welcomed the support of the sport's athletes and coaches, who are gathering today in Lausanne to call for boxing to regain Olympic recognition," an IBA release stated.

IOA urged to appoint CEO, secy

THE International Olympic Committee (IOC) during its Executive Board meeting on Wednesday has urged the Indian Olympic Association (IOA) to appoint a CEO at the earliest. "The EB took note that further to its decision on the 6th of December, 2022, the NOC election successfully took place with the election of new president, the IOC formally acknowledges the results of that election and confirm that 2023 IOC session will take place in Mumbai. However, the NOC has not yet appointed the new CEO or secretary general in accordance with the NOC constitution. The IOC EB subsequently urged the NOC of India to finalise the appointment process without any further delay in order to finally normalise the situation," the IOC said.

Meanwhile, the International Boxing Association had recently sent an open letter to the IOC, sharing its concerns 'regarding basic IOC governance, impartiality, and transparency principles seen during the monitoring process ahead of Paris 2024'. The IOC also discussed the matter during the meeting on Wednesday and refuted all the allegations. The executive board said they will analyze the state of IBA and address the matter in due time.

Jangra signed up by Roy Jones Jr

NEW DELHI: Indian pugilist Mandeep Jangra has been signed up by Roy Jones Jr to fight in the professional circuit for the next three years, becoming the first from the country to associate with the American boxing legend. The 29-year-old Commonwealth Games silver medallist had turned pro in 2020 and holds a 3-0 record, same as his opponents in the upcoming April 1 fight in Milwaukee, Wisconsin, Ryan Rebar of USA.

Alcaraz sets up Fritz clash

MIAMI GARDENS: World No 1 Carlos Alcaraz charged into the quarterfinals of the ATP Miami Open with a convincing 6-4, 6-4 victory over Tommy Paul on Tuesday but second seed Stefanos Tsitsipas was knocked out by Russian Karen Khachanov. Alcaraz, the defending Miami champion and also the winner at Indian Wells earlier this month, will face another American in the last eight when he comes up against Taylor Fritz.

Women's football team named

NEW DELHI: Indian women's football team coach Thomas Dennerby on Wednesday named a 22-member squad for the Olympic Qualifier Round 1 to be played in Bishkek, Kyrgyz Republic from April 4. Apart from India, the hosts Kyrgyz Republic are the only other team in Group G after Turkmenistan pulled out of the tournament. The two teams will play each other twice on April 4 and April 7.

McTominay stars as Scotland down Spain, Croatia see off Turkey

AFP @ Paris

SCOTT McTominay scored twice as Scotland claimed a famous 2-0 victory over Spain at Hampden Park in Euro 2024 qualifying on Tuesday, while Croatia won in Turkey.

Steve Clarke's Scotland won their opening match in Group A 3-0 against Cyprus on Saturday but usurped that result with a stunning performance against three-time European champions Spain. It was their first victory over Spain since 1984 and probably their best result since beating France in 2007.

"The manager said before getting on the bus for the stadium: 'This is your chance to create a legacy as a Scotland player'," said McTominay.

"These are the sort of nights in 20-30 years you remember as a player. When you watch back the game you say I was there. It's what the game is about."

McTominay gave the hosts a dream start by slotting home Andrew Robertson's cutback in the seventh minute.

Ryan Christie went close to a second before Joselu, who scored twice on his debut against Norway at the weekend, hit the crossbar for Spain. Lyndon Dykes missed a golden chance to double the Scots' advantage in first-half added time, but dinked the ball over the bar after racing through on goal. McTominay made no such mistake six minutes after the restart, though, drilling home a fine left-footed volley after excellent work from Kieran Tierney. Scotland are top of a difficult Group A that also includes Erling Haaland's Norway and Khvicha Kvaratskhelia's Georgia. The Georgians played out a 1-1 draw with Norway in the other Group A game in Batumi. World Cup semi-finalists Croatia eased to an easy 2-0 win in Turkey to kickstart their Group D campaign after an opening draw with Wales.

Scotland's midfielder Scott McTominay (L) celebrates after scoring a goal | AFP

Results (Tuesday): Group A: Georgia 1-1 Norway; Scotland 2-0 Spain. Group D: Turkey 0-2 Croatia; Wales 1-0 Latvia. Group I: Kosovo 1-1 Andorra; Switzerland 3-0 Israel; Romania 2-1 Belarus.

Messi scores 100th Argentina goal

SANTIAGO DEL ESTERO: Argentina captain Lionel Messi scored his 100th international goal for the world champions as they romped to a 7-0 friendly win over Curacao. Messi opened the scoring against the Caribbean island minnows on 20 minutes in Santiago del Estero. It came 17 years after he opened his Argentina account in a 3-2 loss to Croatia in March 2006. He soon added another just after the half-hour mark to make it 3-0, & then completed his hat-trick on 37 minutes with the fifth as Argentina toyed with their rivals.

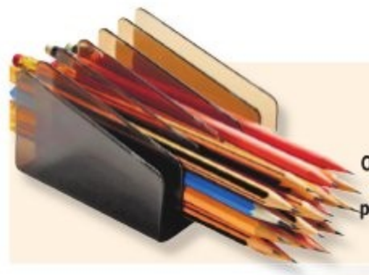
'Tricky to turn a serious film into a mass entertainer'

PG 4



DAY'S DIARY

The modern pencil

On this day in 1858, Hymen Lipman, a stationer patented a newfangled pencil with a rubber plug embedded in one end of its wood shaft

BUYING THE PATENT

Joseph Reckendorfer guessed that the pencil-plus-eraser would become a blockbuster product and bought the patent from Lipman for about two million in today's dollars

A REVOKE ORDER

The patent was later revoked by the Supreme Court when it was challenged by a German firm, Faber-Castell that attached the eraser using a metal ferrule

THE LEGACY

Nearly 60 years after Lipman's innovation, the pencil became a hit. In 1915, it inspired a sermon by the Rev. Silas Delmar Conger

Actor Iti Acharya is part of a new song with international rapper Merlin Babaji; the music video's trailer was out on the Times Square billboard in New York City

BIG ON BILLBOARDS

MONIKA MONALISA

ACTOR Iti Acharya has her eyes set on the international market with her latest venture Love Her Too Much by international rapper Merlin Babaji, better known for Vibes and Run the City. The song, which is produced by the city girl along with being a part of it, was launched at Times Square on March 20.

This is the second time that Acharya's work has been on the Times Square billboards, but the actor says the euphoria is still the same. "It was the second time I was seeing myself on the billboards of Times Square. The first time was for a fashion brand. Since it is the second time, I thought I was used to the excitement, but it was still surreal when I saw myself on the board. I can never get used to the feeling. And this time it was a bigger billboard so the excitement was different," says a visibly excited Acharya.

The song is sung by American rapper, Merlin Babaji, who Acharya got in touch with through her brother. "My brother graduated from Berklee College of Music. Since I have also lived in the USA, I know some people in the music fraternity. Merlin was one such. I came across his work and found him interesting. So I thought why not collaborate," says Acharya.

The actor describes Babaji to be quite 'shy'. "He is not into making music videos and promotions. He has a very niche following. When I suggested collaborating, he suggested I sing. I just laughed it off. But on a serious note, I just thought I should give it a try," he says.

Working in the Kannada film industry, Acharya says it was not easy for her to break into the American music industry. "I am already an actor in India and have seen the fandom here. I have been networking with a lot of different international entertainment industries. That's what my visit to the Cannes Film Festival was all about. Now you might see so many Indian faces in international film festivals but when I started it some four-five years ago, it was big," says Acharya, adding many were surprised that she is not focusing on her already-established career and instead, trying to start afresh.

Currently, Acharya is working on the logistics of getting the video to India. "At the moment, the video is out in the US. After it hit the billboards, we got a great response. So rather than just a regular release, we are thinking of releasing it with a music label, for which I am in talks already," says Acharya, adding if things work out, then the video will be out in India this weekend. On the movie front, she will be seen in a Kannada movie, King & Queen, and is acting and co-producing an independent English-Hindi movie.

REMEMBERING THE RESTLESS ARTIST

Vivan Sundaram, one of the most prominent artists of the modern era, bid adieu. But his artworks on display at the Kochi Muziris Biennale remain a testament to his talent and ideology

Bose Krishnamachari
(The writer is an artist, curator, president and director, Kochi-Muziris Biennale)

VIVAN Sundaram, beyond being a significant artist from the region was a generous and kind human being. We have learnt a lot as artists and later at the Biennale from him, his practice and life. At a time when the Biennale started and there was little confidence, Vivan supported us in so many known and unknown ways – always kind words of appreciation and advice, but firm support. In 2012, when we were all struggling to realise the first edition and there was absolute chaos, Vivan was here slowly putting together what would be one of his most significant installations with pot shards from the Muziris dig site. I remember him assuring not just us, but also all the international artists that this was something they will look back at and remember with joy – and we all do. When I think of Vivan, I think of his warm smile. It feels like a full circle that his work is at Kochi from his travels in South America, as he journeys into the stars. A few artists have the courage and restlessness with which Vivan dreamt and created; and the strong resolve with which he stood for justice.

BACK IN TIME

"I have had to wear this label—the hat of being a 'political artist," shared artist Vivan Sundaram in conversation with The New Indian Express, in 2018, as he talked about the show 'Step Inside And You Are No Longer A Stranger', a retrospective of the progressive artist and was curated by Roobina Karode at the Kiran Nadar Museum of Art, Delhi. In all likelihood, art and activism meant one and the same for Sundaram, who was one of contemporary Indian art's pioneering personalities. The multi-disciplinary arts practitioner passed away due to complications arising from brain haemorrhage in New Delhi on Wednesday. He was 79. Sundaram is survived by wife, noted art-historian and curator Geeta Kapur.

Biocon Biologics wins award

The Asia-Pacific Bioprocessing Excellence Awards ABEA 2023 was held in Singapore earlier this month, and Biocon Biologics Ltd (BBL) took home the 'Bioprocessing Excellence in South Asia' Award. 70,000 biopharma professionals took part in the survey, and Biocon Biologics was chosen as the winner since it received the most votes. The annual Asia-Pacific Bioprocessing Excellence Awards, organised by IMAPAC, recognises organisations which demonstrate exceptional bioprocessing expertise and the use of best-in-class technologies and practices to achieve biomanufacturing excellence in terms of speed, reduced cost, and superior quality.

Enhancing enterprise growth through Smart Network Technology solutions

Bangalore, 30 March 2023

Tata Tele Business Services (TTBS), one of India's leading B2B digital and cloud solutions provider, hosted its flagship event- 'The Do Big Forum', a platform where experts from across the industry come together and share their learnings and experiences on leveraging technology for business growth.

The discussion led by India's leading digital brands delved into how technology has smartly permeated in the lives of people. Smartness is not just a digital interface but using technology and data purposefully to make better decisions and deliver a better customer experience. Organizations today are in a midst of modernising their operations and are rapidly adopting digital modes to build operational efficiencies and become future-ready. Every application performs differently depending on the connectivity, infrastructure systems, and baseline starting points. The forum highlighted the importance of SD-WAN to empower SMBs with intelligent, flexible, and secure networking capabilities to accelerate their digital transformation.

The notable participant speakers, as well as TTBS representatives for the event, were: Mr. Ramanan Chidambaram, Sales Director, Fortinet, Mr. Kiran Mohandas, Fortinet, Mr. Ajeesh P, Head IT & Information Security, Udaan, Mr. Prasad Rao, Head Enterprise IT, Cred, Mr. Kalidas KS, Vice-President, Tata Teleservices, and Mr. Himanshu Dave, Sales Head, Tata Teleservices.

Sharing his views on the subject, Mr. Kalidas KS, Vice-President, Tata Teleservices said, "As enterprises are accelerating their digital transformation, multi-technology networks, cloud-first approach, growing bandwidth consumption, and need for enterprise-grade security layer are becoming the norm.

There is an emerging need to transform networks at scale without compromising security. SD-WAN is the key enabler of digital transformation, providing organizations with the ability to optimize their network infrastructure and deliver superior user experience. At TTBS, we understand the critical role of SD-WAN in shaping the future of enterprise networking. Our SD-WAN solution empowers businesses with enhanced security, scalability, and performance, enabling them to embrace digital transformation with ease. At TTBS, it is our endeavor to democratize cutting-edge technology solutions for SMBs, enabling them to do big."

The keynote was addressed by Mr. Ramanan Chidambaram, Sales Director, Fortinet with an interactive session. He explored and explained what technology could bring into your business to make lives simpler and easier, and what all differences in business a value add can bring, by transforming the legacy connectivity solution towards the secured SD-WAN. He also added on to the trends of customers moving from MPLS to SD-WAN.

The panel discussion began with the experiences faced by organizations in handling hybrid work environments. Mr. Prasad Rao, Head Enterprise IT, Cred said, "Hybrid has become the way to work for most enterprises and given its suitability in resource optimisation and with advance digital tools now available , it t has changed the work culture of the entire world".

The discussion was followed with SD-WAN or Software Defined Wide Area Network on how it allows enterprises to leverage any combination of transport service s- including MPLS, LTE, and Broadband internet services to securely connect users to applications.

Answering on how SD-WAN can be integrated with other technologies like LAN switches to support digital transformation journey, Mr. Kiran Mohandas, Fortinet said "The traditional WAN model of backhauling traffic from branch offices to the data center for robust security is no longer optimal. There is a real need for a better way to send traffic directly over the internet from branch locations to trusted SaaS and cloud based applications maintaining security mandates. The main benefit of SD-WAN is that it reduces the cost by eliminating the need for additional infrastructure and it also improves security."

Mr. Kalidas KS,
Vice - President, Tata Teleservices

Commenting on the same, Mr. Ajeesh P, Head IT & Information Security, Udaan said," SD-WAN uses a centralized control function to steer traffic severely and intelligently across the WAN. This increases application performance and delivers a high-quality user experience, which increases business productivity, agility and reduces IT cost." He further commented on how migrating to cloud technology has been a boon for hybrid works.

Mr. Prasad Rao, Head Enterprise IT, Cred said," MPLS can have steep bandwidth costs, while SD-WAN protects your network from vulnerabilities." The speakers also addressed the migration from MPLS to SD-WAN. Mr. Ajeesh P added on how it could bring down the cost for a business-"SD-WAN allows users to connect multiple locations using one network connection. This means that instead of having to use separate connections for each location, all devices connected to the WAN can share the same connection."

The forum also articulated the fact that most modern businesses are going through digital transformation to stay competitive and be future ready. They require network flexibility and high performance to seamlessly integrate smart applications to meet their growing business needs. SD-WAN offers that and much more.

How SD-WAN makes it easy...
- Optimizes network performance and uptime
- Simplifies branch set up through centralised control
- Allows last mile, service provider agnostic scalability
- Enables secure, fast connectivity and high performance for cloud applications
- Streamlines agile business policy modification
- Provides end-to-end visibility and analytics
- Integrates NGFW capabilities and advanced routing
- Leverages Managed services based OPEX model.

SD-WAN solution has diverse applicability to SMBs across sectors like IT & ITeS, BFSI, Manufacturing, Retail, E-commerce, Healthcare, Media & Telecom, and Logistics. According to an industry estimate about 64% of the surveyed enterprises intend to deploy SD-WAN within next two years and the market is expected to grow at a CAGR of 45.1% in the next few years. The Do Big Forum concluded with unanimous thumbs up for SD-WAN solutions.■

FIT BIT

BHUJANGASANA VARIATION ARMS OUT
(COBRA POSE VARIATION ARMS OUT)

To achieve this beginner pose, practitioners align to Bhujangasana Variation Elbows and lift the palms off the floor. Then spread arms wide apart. It helps raise the torso and facilitate a chest opening. This can be a transit pose in vinyasa flows.

STEPS

- Align in a prone position, either Advasana (Reverse Corpse Pose) or Makarasana (Crocodile Pose).
- Place your palms close to your upper abdomen on the floor at chest level.
- Arms and elbows should be aligned close to your body, which gives you strength to raise the upper body.
- With feet stretched behind, toes and heels together, align the legs and lower back as you breathe.
- Gently press the palms, inhale and lift the chest and shoulders and take the body backward. Keep your arms close to the body with elbows bent. Exhale.
- Bend the neck backward slightly and gaze ahead. This is Bhujangasana Variation Elbows.
- Inhale, spread the arms out at shoulder level. Raise the torso and open the chest. Don't hold your breath. Exhale. Stay in the pose for 2-3 breaths.
- To release, bring the palms back to the mat. Realign to Bhujangasana Variation Elbows.
- Inhale. Exhale, release the palms from the mat. Gradually lower the torso, neck, and head.
- Release the pose and finally rest and relax in Makarasana.

BENEFITS

- It makes your body flexible and also fills the muscles with great physical strength.
- It activates the proper functioning of digestive organs.
- Heals lungs and respiratory disorders like asthma, allergies and other such disorders.
- Good blood circulation ensures a good transport of nutrients, hormones, and oxygen removing waste products.
- Natural relief from backache, neck ache and other such ailments.
- Relieves sciatica pain from the leg by softening the spinal impingement.
- Kneads the abdominal organs certifying a healthy urinary system and proper waste elimination.
- Kundalini awakening infuses the muscle and body with extreme strength.
- Keeps the seven chakras balanced.
- Associated with the overall wellbeing of humankind.
- This pose sets you towards self-awakening.

LIMITATIONS

It should not be practised by those with carpal tunnel syndrome or any injury to the back, arms, or shoulders.

In the case of recent abdominal surgery or pregnancy, this must be avoided.

NATURAL RITUALS FOR SOUND SLEEP

DR BABINA NM

Sufficient sleep is a fundamental aspect of good health. However, over 30 percent of people suffer from insomnia, and this figure increases to 40 to 60 percent for those over 60 years old. In India, sleep disorders are prevalent, with the country ranking as the second-most sleep-deprived nation in the world. According to a Lancet study, approximately 5.4 per cent of Indians aged 30-69, or around 28.8 million people, are at moderate or severe risk of sleep apnea, which is a prevalent sleep disorder.

Inadequate sleep has been linked to several health problems, including obesity, heart disease, diabetes, high blood pressure, depression, a suppressed immune system and endocrine disorders. Studies have also shown a correlation between lack of sleep and premature ageing, as well as the exacerbation of chronic diseases such as Parkinson's disease, multiple sclerosis, etc. Sleep specialists caution that individuals with insomnia should avoid becoming reliant on medication and instead consider lifestyle adjustments. This is where yoga and naturopathy can come in handy. These can show us how to incorporate therapies and relaxation rituals to sleep better.

HERE ARE SOME YOGA POSES FOR BETTER SLEEP

Humming Bee Breathing or Bhramari Pranayama

It is a popular yogic breathing exercise that is known to have a calming effect on the mind and nervous system, making it an effective tool for stress relief and relaxation. The vibrations created by the humming sound stimulate the production of serotonin, a neurotransmitter that is associated with feelings of well-being and happiness. Bhramari Pranayama is also believed to help alleviate symptoms of anxiety, insomnia, and depression.

Alternate Nostril Breathing or Anuloma Viloma

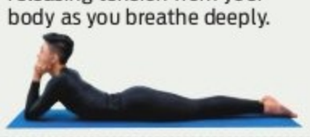
Anuloma Viloma has balancing effect on the nervous system. It provides relief in mental tension, insomnia and hypertension. To perform this, sit comfortably. Press the right nostril with the thumb and inhale through the left nostril. Hold the breath for sometime and then press the left nostril with the ring finger and exhale through the right nostril. After exhalation, inhale through the same nostril and hold the breath for sometime. Then exhale through the right nostril. The exhalation must be longer than inhalation. Practise ten rounds.

Corpse Pose or Shavasana

Shavasana relaxes the nervous system, controls anxiety and stress and brings deep rest to our body and mind. To perform this pose, lie down on the back and keep the eyes closed and do not allow any thoughts to come in the mind. Concentrate on your natural and spontaneous breath. Stay in this position for five minutes, allowing your body to fully relax and recharge.

Crocodile Pose or Makarasana

It is a deeply relaxing yoga posture that involves lying on your belly with your arms crossed under your head. Rest your forehead on your wrists and allow your heels to turn outwards while letting your legs relax and flop open. Close your eyes and focus on releasing tension from your body as you breathe deeply.



Child's Pose or Balasana

Balasana, also known as the Child's Pose, is a kneeling yoga posture that offers a range of physical and mental benefits. This pose involves stretching the lower back while relaxing the entire body. To perform the Child's Pose, begin in a kneeling position with your buttocks resting on your heels. While exhaling, lower your body forward, stretching your arms out in front of you until your forehead rests comfortably on the mat. Keep your arms relaxed and alongside your body. You will feel a stretch in your shoulders, buttocks, spine, and arms. This pose is a great way to relieve tension in the body and calm the mind.

FOOD AND DIET

The role of food and diet in maintaining a healthy daily routine cannot be overstated. To ensure that your diet does not negatively impact your sleep or overall health, it is important to eat a healthy and balanced diet. If you struggle with insomnia, it is recommended to stop the intake of alcohol, caffeine, and nicotine, as these substances can disrupt your sleep cycle and harm your health.

Additionally, it is important to reduce sugar intake, as it can cause energy bursts and uneven blood sugar levels. Instead, consume foods that promote calm sleep, such as carbohydrate snacks like whole-grain crackers, which are rich in vitamin B6. Foods that are high in magnesium, such as wheat bran, cashews, whole grains, almonds, legumes, and seeds are also recommended to aid in better sleep.

Continuing to practise naturopathy and yoga techniques regularly is crucial to achieving better sleep and relieving sleep disorders. It is important to maintain consistency in the efforts, and within three months of regular practice, one can expect to see significant improvements in sleep quality, as well as daytime energy levels and overall performance.

IT'S TRICKY TO TURN A SERIOUS FILM INTO A MASS ENTERTAINER: DHANANJAY

The actor, who will soon be completing 10 years in the film industry, talks about his journey, his milestone 25th film, Gurudev Hoysala, and more

A still from Gurudev Hoysala

A SHARADHAA

DHANANJAY is set to complete a decade in Kannada industry this May. The actor, who made his debut as a hero in Guruprasad's Director Special (2013), has completed 24 films. His milestone 25th film, Gurudev Hoysala, hits the screens on Thursday. From being Daali to Natarakshasa, Dhananjay opens up about his fascinating journey in Indian cinema. "I have seen a lot of ups and downs, and I did struggle to reach the position I am in now. I learned what to do, and what not to do, and this experience will come in handy for my future. I think over the years, I have created a universe of my own with characters like Daali, and other roles. I'm glad to be an actor who can play a variety of characters. You can shine as both a hero and a villain. When things weren't going my way, it was Daali that gave me the popularity that restarted my journey as a hero. The journey also made me a producer, and I am glad to have made quality products like Badava Rascal, Head Bush, and the upcoming Tagaru Palya. There are more films to be brought out from my home banner," he says.

With a career in multiple languages, Dhananjay has worked on understanding the nuances of cinema over the years. "Mistakes are normal in cinema, and that's the only way to move forward. Not every attempt becomes a wondrous one. The industry teaches every member, and I too have learnt a lot, and I am still learning too. Nobody can judge what will do well, but there needs to be honesty in our attempts," he says.

Considering how Gurudev Hoysala is his milestone film, is it extra pressure on him as actor? "Yes. With Gurudev Hoysala, I'm taking a step into the mass entertainer zone. There is a level of anxiety about the audience responses. Moreover, it is always tricky to make a serious film into an entertainer. There needs to be an extensive thought process to blend in all the commercial elements. We have done our part, and now it is up to the audience to give their verdict," says Dhananjay, who plays a police officer in the film. "I had put on weight for Head Bush, which I had to shed to play the role of Gurudev Hoysala. I lost about 10 kilos in a very short span to fit myself into the role of a cop. The rest of the preparation came through the script reading and discussions with the director. I took inputs from my friends, who are police officers, and their experiences came in handy. But it is important to have a signature style as an actor, and that will be seen in Gurudev too."

Talking about what should be the takeaway from Gurudev Hoysala, Dhananjay says, "We should be more empathetic. We should be alert, think, and observe what is happening around us."

Gurudev Hoysala marks Dhananjay's maiden collaboration with Geetha director Vijay. "Presenting a realistic subject like Gurudev Hoysala as a commercial entertainer is difficult. Vijay has clarity in his subject, and he has neatly blended multiple elements in the film," says the actor, who also shares a warm rapport with producers Karthik Gowda and Yogi G Raj. Dhananjay's collaboration with their KRG Studios began with Ratnan Prapancha, and will also work together in Uttarakaanda. "The initial struggle of finding the right directors and producers has finally given me a banner like KRG Studios. I am glad to work in such a good production house, and I'm looking forward to doing more work with them," he signs off.

I want to explore more stories and characters: Amrutha Iyengar

AMRUTHA Iyengar and Dhananjay, who have previously collaborated for Suri's Popcorn Monkey Tiger and Badava Rascal, will be seen together once again in Gurudev Hoysala. "In a commercial film, the heroines mostly are relegated to playing the hero's love interest and feature in a couple of songs. However, in Gurudev Hoysala, I play a Bharatanatyam teacher, and Gurudev's wife. I have a prominent role in the film, and my scenes with Dhananjay will be interesting, and blend well with the story " says Amrutha.

About working in back-to-back films with Dhananjay, Amrutha says, "Our pairing worked well in Badava Rascal, and the audience too wanted to see us back together on screen."

Meanwhile, Amrutha also has Abbabba. directed by K M Chaitanya, and Arvind Krupalikar's next with Sharan, in her lineup. "Honestly, playing the waiting game and choosing the right scripts is a bit taxing, but ultimately, I want to explore more stories and characters, and can't wait to star in interesting projects," she says.

Shivarajkumar-Narthan's Bhairathi Ranagal to go on floors in May

CE FEATURES

NARTHAN, who made his directorial debut with Mufti, is now directing Bhairathi Ranagal, the prequel of the film. The gangster drama will be produced by Geetha Shivarajkumar under the Geetha Pictures banner.

The makers, who had unveiled a poster along with an image of the Century star with the tagline "The Era, where it all Began' confirmed to be a prequel of the 2017 film, and will be made in multiple languages, including Kannada, Hindi, Tamil, Telugu, and Malayalam.

The film, which is now in the pre-production stage will go on floors in May and Shivanna is said to join from June first week. Meanwhile, the team is in the process of finalising the cast who were part of Mufti like Devaraj, Madhu Guruswamy, Vasishta Simha, and Babu Hirannaiah to play their respective roles in Bhairathi Ranagal. Music director Ravi Basrur, and cinematographer Naveen Kumar, who had previously worked in Mufti will be joining hands with Narthan for Bairathi Ranagal too.

There is also news of Narthan teaming up with RRR actor Ram Charan for a project made under KVN Productions, and the director plans to begin the prepping for the Ram Charan project in December. However, an official confirmation is awaited.

'I had to do method acting for Dasara'

ABHILASHA CHERUKURI

Dheekshith Shetty, who is gearing up for his big-ticket release Dasara, discovered his calling in acting when he was a second-year LLB student "I was searching for a part-time job to support my family then. One of my friends, who is also a junior artist, introduced me to acting. Once I started facing the camera, I realized that I required some formal education." says Dheekshith, who later joined the Acting and Performing institute in Bangalore to hone his skills. A stint in the city's theatre circuit, followed by a teaching job for a basic acting course, Dheekshith moved on to work in Kannada TV serials, where he earned recognition for his portrayal of Arjun/Partha in the daily soap Naagini before cementing his position as one of Kannada cinema's rising talents, with his debut feature Dia (2020).

Dheekshith credits his background in theatre for building a career across all mediums like stage, television, OTT and films. "TV and cinema are very different from theatre. The former is a dialogic medium, while the latter is a visual one. Nevertheless, theatre is the basic foundation for the profession of acting. I believe every actor must do theatre", Dheekshith says.

Though Dasara is Dheekshith's most high-profile role so far, he has been around in the Telugu industry for a while now. Explaining about his entry into Telugu cinema, Dheekshith says, "After Dia, I was supposed to work in a film called Rose Villa. What was supposed to be a Kannada film turned into a Telugu one due to a twist of fate, and that is how my Telugu debut happened." Dheekshith later went on to act in Mugguru Monagallu and Meet Cute(produced by his Dasara co-star Nani), before getting a chance to play the role of Soori in Dasara. Though he started off by mugging up lines in Telugu in his debut film, he soon picked up the language through real-time immersion and conversations on the sets, an exercise that benefited him greatly once he landed on the sets of Dasara, where he had to speak in the Telangana dialect spoken in the Godavarikhani region.

Dheekshith's role in Dasara is a stark contrast from all the urban characters he has played so far. Speaking about how transformed into Soori, Dheekshith says, "Srikanth Odela, our director, had a very clear vision about how the character was going to look, talk and walk. I had a lot of material to base my character on, so it wasn't particularly difficult. And also since we almost shot the entire film in this 22-acre set that was recreated as a village in the most authentic way possible, I felt like I was in an actual village and after getting into the costumes and makeup, I felt like I was actually living the character. The atmosphere of the sets lent itself greatly to my performance in Dasara. In addition to Srikanth's inputs, I also got a lot of help from Srinath and Suresh, the film's writers, who also hailed from Godavarikhani."

Dheekshith has Blink and KTM releasing later this year in Kannada, roles which he admits required him to take up method acting again. He says that his role in Meet Cute got him Dasara and this role will pave the way to more Telugu projects. What is he looking forward to, as an actor? "Everything else aside, it is the love of people that keeps me going. It is what I require the most as an actor", says Dheekshith, signing off.

Rishi

Rishi's first look poster from Ramana Avatara out

CE FEATURES

RISHI of Operation Alamelamma, and Kavaludari fame has completed shooting for Ramana Avatara, and the makers have released the first look poster on the occasion of Ramanavami and shows the actor donning a lord Rama avatar.

Vikas Pampapathi, who has previously worked as an assistant director and writer in director Suni's Chamak, marks his debut with this film. Billed to be a romantic comedy-drama, the film features Shubhra Ayyappa, Pranitha Subhash, and Arun Sagar as the leads. Ramana Avatara, produced by Amrej Suryavanshi under the Star Fab Production banner, has Vishnuprasad and Sameer Deshpande handling the cinematography, and Judah Sandy scoring the music. The team is aiming to release Ramana Avatara in the month of June. Rishi is currently busy shooting for a project directed by Prashanth Rajappa, which also stars Prakash Belawadi.
